Bellefonte Republican.

VOL. XXII. BELLEFONTE, PA., THURSDAY MORNING, NOVEMBER 13 1890. NO 46.

Established in 1869.} "Let us see to it that a Government, of the People, for the People, and by the People, shall not perish from the Earth."---A. LINCOLN. Terms: $1.50 per Yea

THE Czarewitch, while in Vienna, placed a wreath on the tomb of Prince Rudolph, and, it it to be hoped, took a warning.

THE election—but never mind the election, upon second thoughts it is hardly necessary to refer to its harrowing details.

IT isn't much consolation to know thatubp the relicans elected the Lieutenant Governor of Pennsylvania; still it is something saved out of the wreck.

IF it had not been a preacher who told it one might have suspected that the story of a plot to assassinate Congressman Taylor, of Tennessee, originated with some one who had a favor to ask and wanted to render one first.

SOUCCI has lost ten pounds during the first two days of his fast. He is undergoing it in the interest of science, but at this rate of loss there will be none of him left to scienee ot the end of 45 days.

THE professor and students of Oxford hope for the sake of its good name that Birchall will escape the extreme penalty of the law. Judging by his conduct in jail its good name will be safer when there is no further chance for him to smirch it.

THERE's nothing to be gained by crying over spilled milk. Rather let us exercise extraordinary vigilance to see no such accidents occur in the future. Remember the adage that "an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure."

GENERAL MILES, who has been investigating the Messianic craze among the Indians, thinks the Mormons orignated it. What motive they could have is not clear, and as they have enough to answer for, ought to have the benefit of the doubt.

GOVERNOR HILL knows by this time that Secretary Noble is a great success as a knock-down hitter, and if his hide is not as tough as an elephant's he must know just how it feels to be flayed alive. When next he addresses a letter to an official of the Federal Government he will probably be more temperate in his language.

OUR faith in the principals of the Republican party is not shaken. We believe that the future prosperity of the country and the stability of our institutions are largely dependent upon the success of that party, and a majority of the voters in the United States believe with us, but in "off years" there are lots of voters who, for various reasons, do not vote as they believe. This year the number was unusually large.

Now that our Democratic friends have stopped yelling long enough to hear, will some of them kindly inform us what possible use their party can make of the victory it has obtained over the Republican party by a skillful combination of all the elements of opposition, including the republican sore heads, and a liberal expenditure of money among the "floaters"? With its two-thirds of the, House of Representatives the Democratic party cannot repeal a single law unless it meets the approval of a Republican Senate and a Republican President. These facts seem to be over-looked by the too jubilant Democrats.

IT's useless to waste time in explaining why the Republican party was beaten. We are licked and badly licked at that, and that's enough. But we now make the prophecy that the principal cause of our defeat this year will also be the principal cause of our victory in 1892. We refer, of course to the new tariff law Up to this time only the bad side of tha measure has been visible, and that has been greatly magnified and axaggerated by greedy and unscrupulous merchants, who have taken advantage o the passage of that measure, to add to the prices of hundreds of articles which are in no way afiected by it, in order to put money in their pockets at the expense of the consumers. And that this policy which was ably aided and abetted by the Democratic managers, was the direct cause of thousands of Republican votes being cast for Democratic nominees cannot for a moment be doubted. Long before two years shall have rolled around this law will have by its workings, practically shown that it is the best of its kind ever enacted, and the same people who voted against the Republicans because of its enactment by Republican Congress, will be the loudest shouters in its favor. Mark the prediction.

AN OPINION AN COMMENTS.

The following opinion filed by Chief Justice Paxon in the case of George E. Sparrow vs Mercer county will be interesting reading to liquor dealers and temperance people:

This was a writ of alternative mandamus directed to the president judge, S.S. Mohone, of the court of quarter sessions of Mercer county, requiring him to show cause why he should not grant a license to sell liquors at retail to George E. Sparrow,

To this writ the court made a full returning, giving reasons for refusing the license.

The court says: It would have been sufficient for the learned judge to have returned that he has considered the petitions and remonstrance and that in the exercise of his discretion he has refused to license. His return is very full and he has placed upon the record all the facts bearing upon the application.

We have decided repeatedly in language to plain to be misunderstood, that the granting of a license to sell liquor by retail rests in the sound discretion of the court below. This discretion however, is a legal discretion, to be exercised wisely and not arbitrary. A judge who refuses all applications for license, unless for cause shown errs as widely as the judge who grants all applications.

To refuse a license because in the mind of the judge there is a belief that a license should not be granted at all as a matter of poicy is to make law not to administer it. In the case at hand the learned judge has undoubtedly attached great weight to the remonstrances.

The most that can be said is that they were of sufficient weight to convince him that the license was not a matter of public necessity. In the view we take of the law this was not an abuse of discretion. We are not called upon to say whether it was exercised wisely.

The mandamus is refused.

The views above expressed by Chief Justice Paxon are in harmony with previous ones of our highest court. It ill becomes on ordinary laymen to demur, but we cannot for the life of us see why the little word "may" assumes the significance of "must" in a court of justice. We believe it was the intentions of the legislature to clothe the license granting power with unlimited discretion and that a judge who refuses all applications is not exceeding his power.—Altoona Tribune.

The foregoing remarks of the Tribune, indicates a misapprehension of the law which is as unreasonable as the demand of Mr. Sparrow, though more excusable because it errs on the side of sobriety. "A judge who refuses all applications" without cause shown "does not exceed his power," but he does exceed a sound legal discretion. In so doing he executes his own will instead of the will of the egislature expressed in the law precisely as when he grants a license in direct opposition to the evidence against the application. In either case there is no redress since a matter of discretion with the lower court is not reviewable by the higher court.

This discretion is legal when it is exercised 'for cause shown' and not as 'a matter of policy' nor for a personal consideration. It must not be the gratification of personal preference nor rest upon the private conviction of the court, nor cater to a public sentiment that is not legally expressed. Evidence must determine the direction of a sound discretion. The law, however, makes the remonstrance itself the evidence and the complete evidence for the enlightenment of the court upon the question of necessity for the license to sell intoxicating drinks, and when the preponderance of evidence "having due regard to the number and character of the petitions for and against such applications," is against the necessity of such license "for the accommodation of the public and the entertainment of strangers and travelers," the law requires that the court of Quarter Sessions "in all cases shall refuse the same." In effect this is and was intended to be local option.

The court has no discretion in such cases. The law prohibits the court from thrusting a tippling house upon the people of a ward, borough or township who do not want it and who say so upon a proper remonstrance. If citizens, male and female, will not remonstrate against the granting of licenses to sell intoxicating drinks, the responsibility under the law is with them and not with the court for the existence of licensed grog-shops in their midst and all the horrid evils that attend them.

If the court does not recognize, and will not be governed by, the legally expressed public opinion in the exercise of ts judicial discretion in the matter of granting or refusing licenses, there is no encouragement to remonstrate and the tremendous responsibility for the accursed traffic rests upon the court.

Surely there is enough temperance sentiment in Bellefonte to stamp out the the infamous rum holes that are disgracing the borough with drunkenness and debauchery, if the court will have due regard to the moral weight as well as the number of signers in favor of and against this blighting curse. This is evidently the legislative intent.

Donation for the Memorial Home.

An appeal for the old soldiers and their wives Thursday, Nov. 13th has been appointed by the Department of W R C of Penna., as donation day for the benefit of the Memorial Home at Brookville, Pa. This home is supported by the Woman's Relief Corps; it provides a comfortable home for every old soldier and wife who cannot take care of themselves. Note this, we do not separate the old husband from his wife, but here they can end their days in comfort together, therefore we make an appeal to every legal heart to send some contribntion to the store of S. H. Williams, however small, on Thursday and Friday, November 13th and 14th, Women of Corps 95, do all you can. Veterans of G. A. R., Union Veteran Legion and Sons of Veterans give your mite. Merchants and the general public give us money, provisions, clothing, canned goods, coffee, teas, sugar, &c. Teachers, ask your pupils to bring a penny, or spool of thread, comb, needles, pins, &c. or whatever they please, to aid in this good cause.

His Idea of Drunkenness.

"Speaking of the natural wit of an Irishman," said Gen. Martin T. McMahon, as he recalled old scenes, "we had many illustrations of it in the army, and one instance in particular is still fresh in my mind.

"There was a young Naval Lieutenant who was being tried by a court-martial on the charge of intoxication. The chief witness against him was an old Quartermaster by the name of Murphy, who was being examined by the Judge Advocate.

"You were on duty the night Lieut. C. came on board, were you not, Murphy?"

"I was, sor."

"Did you notice whether he was under the influence of liquor?"

"I do not know, sor."

"When would you say a man was drunk?"

"Well, sor, if I saw a man come on board, and saw him fall down and could not get up I would say he was drunk sor."

"Now, Murphy, suppose you saw Kelley (another old Quartermaster) come on board in the same condition, would you say he was drunk?"

"Sor, I would say Kelley was drunk whether I saw him or not."

DURING the time between the first of December 1890, and the fourth day of March 1890, all of the useful National legislation which the country will get until the Republicans again control the House of Representatives will have to be enacted and it is to be expected that every Republican member of the present House will be in his seat every hour that Congress is in session, unless prevented by serious illness, and no other excuse for absence should be accepted. Let us not hear the cry of "no quorum" once during those three months. Let the watchword be "business", and let the result show that business was strictly attended to.

Cleary's Second Trial.

The second trial of Charles Cleary, for the murder of Policeman Paul, will take place at the January term, 1891. The Court has ordered the drawing of 80 jurors for the first week. The fate of young Cleary will therefore soon be finally determined.

HOW LIMESTONE BECOMES A NAIL

When this continent was almost beneath salt water and no animals existed only the lowest order of Articulates. Radiates and Mollucks, the rocks of the Lower Siluvian period were forming, The gray limestone so abundant in Half Moon and Patton townships and other parts of Centre county belong to this age.

This limestone by chemical analyses contains iron; by decomposition the iron was set free, which collected usually in pockets, forming ore and assuming mostly the massive form, though frequently fibrous stalctitic botrycirdal—resembling bunches of grapes—so hard as to scratch glass leaving some of its powder upon it.

The color of limonite ranges from ochre yellow to dark brown and black. Sometimes a beautiful iredesence of peacock colors is seen in the surface of the ore at Tow Hill. While some at Matterns has the appearauce of being varnished and others resembling velvet and in scales. A beautiful specimen from Scotia like polished steel and doubtful if not in crystal. Crystals of limonite have never been reported,

The mining is more extensively carried on by excavators, each shovel full filling a small car holding about one cubic yard of material. Blasting, pick and shovel, even plowing are resorted to. The ore is taken to the washers on cars either by mules or steam engines.

The large lumps are loaded upon the cars, the smaller ore is put through the washers. The screen made of iron mesh classifies the ore, the coarser passes over the conveyor, the flint and particularly the sand balls are picked out. The fine ore goes to the jigs and is separated on the jig platform from the flint by its greater specific gravity. After all this washing and sorting it is ready for melting.

The ore from Matterns, Blair and Red banks is used in making tough neutral iron in the new furnace of the Bellefonte Furnace Co., and is with other ores—magnetite, with limestone which is used as a flux and coke, gives cast iron its strength and value—taken to the cupola of the furnace and put in the bosh; here is converted into liquid iron and liquid cinder which drops into the crucible, the part below the twyeres. When ready for the blast the clay is removed from the notch the iron flows to the molds in sand, remains here a couple of hours, when cold is a yellow rough iron.

The cinder being lighter flows on top into the cinder trough and away down the hill. The flow, limpidity and color are carefully watched as they give an index to the interior working of the furnace.

The color varies from creamy white or gray, green, black and intermediate shades. If the color is light green protoxide of manganese is present, dark green shows protoxide of iron, black, larger quantities of protoxide of iron is present.

We will follow the pig iron and cinder to the Bellefonte Nail Works and watch them being made into balls in the pudling furnace and squeezed into blooms in the aligator squeeze, then the rolling begins. Seven passes is sufficient to make it into muck bar 12 to 18 inches long, 3½ to 4 inches wide, this is cut and piled with old iron scraps. Heated again and rolled into nail plate then cut into nails on the 53 nail machines, all different sizes. The large nails are made by hand, the small ones on self-feeding machines. The smallest being 7-8 bar, all sizes having different names.

Merit Wins.

We desire to say to our citizens, that for years we have been selling Dr King's New Discovery for Consumption, Dr King's New Life Pills, Bucklen's Arnica Salve and Electric Bitters, and have never handled remedies that sell as well, or that have given such universal satisfaction. We do not hesitate to guarantee them every time, and we stand ready to refund the purchase price, if satisfactory results do not follow their use. These remedies have won their great popularity purely on their merits.

Marriage Licenses.

Only three marriage licenses were ranted during the past week and they are as follows:

Michael Ladiha and Klara Matesevas, both of Bellefonte, Pa.

Nick Shournan and Rose Mehalic, the former of Huntingdon, the latter of Bellefonte, Pa.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

(From our regular Correspondent.)

WASHINGTON, NOV., 10, 1890.

The President is hard at work on his annual message to Congress, just as he would have been had there been no political cyclone. He listens patiently to all the explanations made by the returning Republicans, and that they remained home on account of Democratic misrepresentations concerning the new tariff law and the federal election bill, and that the number of republicans that voted for democrats is small in any one locality, though it mounts up in the aggregate.

A notable thing about the situation is, that not a single prominent republican who has been to Washington since the election feels any alarm about the result in 1892; without exception they are of the opinion that the dissatisfaction in the republican ranks which enabled the democrats to elect such a large number of Representatives in the Northern States, will all have disappeared before the opening of the National campaign. This is certainly encouraging.

"What about the election bill?" is a question that has been asked very often since the election. I do not pretend to speak by any authority, but judging from what is said by Republican Representatives and Senators now here, I think it will be pushed through the Senate at once. However, nothing will be done until a caucus of republican Senaters has been held, and as there are several prominent Senators who have from the start thought it unwise to pass the bill, it may be decided to let it drop. The President will, in all probability, make some recommendation regarding this bill in his message; he has been generally supposed to be in favor of it, but there are rumors during the last day or two that he now thinks it would be unwise to attempt to pass it through the Senate at the short session; not because he does not shink there is a necessity for such a law, but because he fears democratic fillibustering against it would take up so much time that it would be impossible to pass the congressional apportionment bill, which will also be bitterly opposed by the democrats, in both House and Senate, and the 13 regular annual appropriation bills, at the short session. It is perfectly natural that the President should be averse to calling an extra session of the newly elected Fifty-second Congress in the spring, and the failure of even one of the regular appropriation bills to pass at the coming session will leave him no choice in the matter—the passage of all the appropriation bills before the first of next July is necessary to keep the wheels of Government running.

Some of the shrewdest political observers here think that nothing short of a miracle can prevent the holding of an extra session in the Spring, and the fact that the democrats have already opened the campaign for the speakership of the house in the Fifty-second Congress shows that they believe an extra session to be one of the certainties. Of course the republicans will do their level best to pass all necessary legislation at the coming short session, in order to prevent the holding of an extra session.

The extra session of the Fifty-first Congress certainly bids fair to be one of the most interesting and exciting short sessions ever held.

Speaking of the campaign for the Speakership of the next House: It is already in full blast here, and owing to the large and unweildly majority that the democrats will have, it promises to be unusually hot and exciting. For the first time in thirty years the northern democrats will find themselves able to control the House, if necessary, without the aid of a single vote from the Southern States, and that they will attempt to elect a northern democrat is well nigh certain. The Southern democrats have so long regarded the Speakership of the House as their special perquisite, when the democrats controlled the House, that they are not at all disposed to give it up, and will not without making a most bitter fight. Already they are arguing that among the democratic Representatives elected from the northern States, and without it they cannot win. Mills, of Texas, Crisp and Blount of Georgia, Breckenbridge of Kentucky, Hatch of Missouri, and Wilson of West Virginia, are already in the field as Southern candidates.

The town has been shocked by a rumor, which started in New York, that Postmaster General Wanamaker was financially embarrassed. Nobody here believes a word of it, and Mr. Wanamaker's friends say that Jay Gould started the rumor in order to injure Mr. Wanamaker's credit, because against Gould's wishes Mr. Wanamader persists in pushing his idea of a Postal telegraph system, which Gould thinks would be injurious to the Western Union Telegraph company which he controls.

Good Results of Farmers' Alliances.

Washington Gladden in the November Forum.

How long the farmers will hold together in their alliances is difficult to predict. It may be that the discussions in which they must take part will show them that some of the measures of direct relief on which they are chiefly depending are impracticable; and it is conceivable that this discovery will tend to demoralize them. That they can become a permanent political force is not likely, for parties which represent only classes cannot live in a republic. But several results, by no means undesirable, may be looked for as the outcome of this farmers uprising.

1. They will secure a thorough discussion of some important economical questions. They will force the people to consider carefully the problem of the state ownership of the great public highways. If the farmers can stick to their text long enough to get this business thoroughly ventilated they will do a good service.

II. They are loosening the band of partisanship and opening the way for a rational co-operation of citizens for all desirable purposes. It is not improbable that it will lead to a reconstruction of parties.

III. They are helping to make an end of the sectionalism which has been a large part of the capital of a certain class of politicians, "Scarcely a vestige," they say, "of the old sectional prejudice in order that he may keep farmers equally divided on important questions "is admonished that he is about to confront "a superior intelligence that will soon convince him that his occupation is gone." The farmers' movement is not, probably the deluge, but it will prove to be something of a shower—in some quarters, a cyclone—and it will clear the atmosphere.

PATTISON IS ELECTED.

He Defeats Delamater for Governor of Pennsylvania.

HIS MAJORITY ABOUT 5,000.

Watres, the Republican Candidate for Lieutenant Governor, and Stewart, Republican, for Secretary of Internal Affairs, Elected.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 6.—The returns from the different parts of the state, so far as received, show that Pattison has been elected governor by about 5,000 majority over Delamater. Many counties, which were heretofore looked upon as safely Republican, have this year given Democratic majorities. There are districts to be heard from yet, but these are not likely to change the results, although they may cause some alteration in the figures.

R. E. PATTISON.

Among the congressmen there has also been somewhat of a change, although the Republicans do not concede, what is claimed by the Democrats, that the latter have gained three seats.

It is, however, conceded by the Democrats that the entire Republican county ticket in this city has been elected by majorities of between 15,000 and 20,000. The only successful Democratic candidate in this city is the county commissioner, John P. J. Sensenderfer, who was elected because he had no opposition.

Watres, the Republican candidate for lieutenant governor, and Stewart, Republican candidate for secretary of internal affairs, are elected, notwithstanding the defeat of the head of the ticket.

ILLINOIS.

Both Parties Claim the State and the Result Is in Doubt.

CHICAGO, Nov. 6.—Four hundred and forty-eight precincts show the probable election of Frank Lawler (Dem.) for sheriff, Edward Wilson (Dem.) for state treasurer, Henry Raab (Dem.) for state superintendent, C. Kern (Dem.) for county treasurer, Albert G. Lane (Rep.) for county superintendent public instruction, and R. J. Smith (Dem.) for president of county board. The county clerkship is in doubt. The Democratic judiciary ticket is also probably elected.

The Democrats elect W. G. Ewing for congress in the First district, Lawrence McCann in the Second and Allen C. Durborrow in the Third. The Republicans elect George E. Adams for congress in the Fourth district.

The figures thus far received on the state ticket are of such a meager character that no definite conclusion can be reached as yet with regard to the result. The latest figuring, based on unofficial and estimated returns from thirty counties, including Cook, place Amberg's plurality at 12,500. Harrison two years ago carried the same counties by about 15,000 plurality.

Both state central committees are claiming the state. The returns received are mostly from the northern half of the state, and therefore leave the result in great doubt.

The Democrats are claiming the defeat of Congressman Cannon (Rep.) in the Fifteenth district, but the Republican state committee still claims Cannon's re-election by 500 majority.

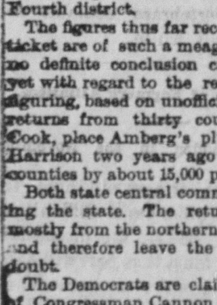
DANVILLE, Ills., Nov. 5.—George T. Buckingham (Rep.), chief clerk of the Illinois house of representatives, makes an estimate which shows Cannon to be beaten by a small majority.

MASSACHUSETTS.

Russell, Democrat, Elected Governor by Over 8,000 Plurality.

BOSTON, Nov. 6.—Three hundred and twenty-seven towns and cities, one precinct lacking, give Blackmer (Pro.), 12,628; Brackett (Rep.), 125,626; Russell (Dem.), 134,272; Russell's plurality, 6,646. The same places last year gave Blackmer, 16,273; Brackett, 126,287; Russell, 116,707. Brackett's plurality, 9,580; net Democratic gain, 18,226.

The Tenth congressional district, with only one precinct in the city of Worcester lacking, gives J. H. Walker (Rep.), 10,707; C. B. Pratt (Dem.), 10,323; Small (Pro.) 895. The district in 1888 gave a Republican plurality of 1,915.



W. E. RUSSELL.

The Seventh congressional district gives William Cogswell (Rep.), 12,512; Jonas H. French (Dem.), 10,900; Spaulding (Pro.), 673. Republican plurality, 1,612; in 1888, 4,572.

The Twelfth gives John C. Crosby (Dem.), 12,105; Francis V. Rockwell (Rep.), 11,712; Bascom (Pro.), 874. Democratic plurality, 393; in 1888, a Republican plurality of 9,097.

In the Ninth district Candler (Rep.), with Blackstone, Ashland, Northboro and Lincoln to hear from, has 68 plurality. These towns in 1888 gave a Democratic plurality of 284. This would indicate the election of Williams (Dem.). The Eleventh congressional district, with two towns missing, and allowing Spaulding the same plurality in those two that Wallace had in 1888, elects Coolidge (Dem.) by 16 plurality.

With Williams and Coolidge elected in the Ninth and Eleventh districts, as now seems probable, the Democrats have tied the delegation, a gain of four.

COLORADO.

The Democrats Probably Carry the State.

But the vote is close.

DENVER, Colo., Nov. 6.—Returns from both city and county are coming in very slowly. The unscratched tickets in twenty precincts out of seventy-six in the county give Yeaman (Dem.) for governor and O'Donnell for congress 3,757; Routt (Rep.) for governor and Townsend for congress 4,355.

The Republican vote is divided on the legislative ticket in these precincts so as to give the Democrats a majority of 578.

Partial returns from the outside counties indicate that the Democrats have surely elected the treasurer, attorney general and superintendent of public instruction. The vote on the remainder of the ticket will be close. In many districts the Democratic gain has been large, especially in Leadville, where in several precincts it reaches as high as 50 per cent.

MICHIGAN.

The Meager Returns So Far Indicate Democratic Gains.

DETROIT, Nov. 6.—Up to an early hour it was impossible to give any estimate of the result, so meager was the character of the returns received, but they indicate Democratic gains. The contest for governor is no doubt very close. The Democrats claim the election of Ellis (Dem.) for attorney general beyond doubt, and say that the rest of the state ticket is in doubt. The Democrats have carried the First congressional district and claim the Second, Fifth, Sixth, Seventh, Eighth and Tenth districts, with the Fourth and Ninth in doubt.

The Republicans admit that the result is doubtful in the Second, Fourth, Fifth and Tenth. They claim, however, a victory for their congressional candidate in the First. The Democrats have gained several seats in the state legislature.

WISCONSIN.

Republicans Concede State and Legislature to the Democrats.

MILWAUKEE, Nov. 6.—Reports indicate that the Democrats have carried the state and elected G. W. Peck governor. Peck carried Milwaukee county by 6,000 plurality. Returns give him 5,508 now, with a Democratic ward to hear from and one precinct of the banner Democratic ward of the city not accounted for. The returns received from the outside are scattering and cover nearly the whole state. Every one shows Democratic gains. The legislature will be Republican on joint ballot, insuring the re-election of Senator Spooner.

Later—Chairman Payne, of the Republican state central committee, gives the state and legislature to the Democrats, and says the Wisconsin congressional delegation will stand 6 Democrats, 3 Republicans.

NEW YORK.

The State Legislature a Tie on Joint Ballot as Yet.

NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—Nothing has yet transpired to warrant a change in the statement sent out by the United Press that on joint ballot the legislature in this state would be a tie, the assembly standing 67 Democrats to 61 Republicans. In the senate the Republicans now have a majority of 6.

BROOKLYN, N. Y., Nov. 6.—The latest returns from the Third congressional district indicate the election of Coombs (Dem.) by a majority of 14.

It is believed, however, that the official count will be necessary to decide the question.

Mr. Wallace (Rep.), the sitting member for this district, was elected to the Fifty-first congress by a majority of 2,443.

OHIO.

Late Returns Indicate That Warwick Has Surely Defeated McKinley.

MASSILON, O., Nov. 6.—From returns received it can be confidently stated that McKinley is defeated for congress, Warwick being elected by from 400 to 700 majority. A later dispatch says that McKinley's defeat now seems certain. Net estimated Democratic plurality in his district, 234. A still later dispatch says that Holmes county gives Warwick 1,900; Wayne, 400. Stark county gives McKinley 500; Medina county gives him 1,366. McKinley's defeat conceded.

W. S. WARWICK.

CINCINNATI, Nov. 5.—The Times-Star has a special dispatch from Canton, O., saying the estimate made for the Sixteenth district elected Warwick (Dem.) by 244 majority over McKinley.

NEW HAMPSHIRE.

Amsden, the Democratic Candidate, for Governor, in the Lead.

CONCORD, N. H., Nov. 6.—Latest returns show Amsden (Dem.), for governor, leads Tuttle (Rep.) by upward of 1,000, but the possibilities are that the vote for Fletcher (Pro.) will prevent a choice by the people, and the legislature will elect. Both parties claim to have carried the general count. McKinney (Dem.) has been elected to congress in the First district, and Moore (Rep.) in the Second. Latest returns give Democrats 175 members of the general count, Republicans, 159, with 23 to hear from. Returns from 134 towns and cities give Tuttle (Rep.), 27,884; Amsden (Dem.), 28,192; Fletcher (Pro.), 739. Same places in 1888 gave Goddell (Rep.), 29,583; Amsden (Dem.), 29,312; Carr (Pro.), 1018. Republican net loss, 300.

CALIFORNIA.

The Republican Governor Apparently Elected by a Safe Vote.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 6.—Markham (Rep.) for governor apparently maintains the average majority of Harrison in 1888, which would insure his election by a safe vote. In the congressional districts McKenna (Rep.) in the third and Bowers (Rep.) in the sixth are apparently elected, the former by a reduced majority. Nothing whatever is known as to the fourth congressional precincts, all of them being in the city of San Francisco. The first and second congressional districts are claimed by both the Republicans and the Democrats, and the Republicans claim that Loud (Rep.) has defeated Clunie (Dem.) in the fifth.

DELAWARE.

The State in Doubt—The Result Hinges on One Town.

WILMINGTON, Nov. 5.—The state is still in doubt. Kent county is Democratic by about 200 majority and Sussex by about 400. New Castle county is still in doubt. The chairman of the Republican city committee states that the Republican majority in the county will be 800. The Democrats do not concede the county, as there are yet two or three districts to hear from.

If the vote of the town of Laurel, Sussex county, where a riot caused the polls to be closed, is thrown out it will probably give the state to the Republicans, as the town is strongly Democratic.

NEW JERSEY.

Cadmus Defeats Beckwith and the Election of Bergen Conceded.

PATERSON, N. J., Nov. 6.—Cornelius A. Cadmus, the Democratic candidate, has carried the Fifth district for congress by about 100 majority over Congressman Beckwith. William Walter Phelps was the representative of the district in the house for a number of years. Every section of the district shows large Democratic gains.

TRENTON, N. J., Nov. 6.—The Democratic State committee concedes the election of Bergen to congress from the First congressional district of New Jersey.

SOUTH CAROLINA.

Tillman Elected—The Democratic Majority Will Be About 15,000.

CHARLESTON, Nov. 6.—The election passed off quietly, and the regular Democratic (Tillman) ticket is elected. The next legislature will have an overwhelmingly Democratic majority. This legislature will elect a successor to Senator Hampton.

The latest returns show that the regular Democratic state ticket is elected by about 15,000 majority. The Democrats elect six of seven congressmen, Miller (Rep.) beating Elliott (Dem.) in the Seventh district. The vote in the state is very light.

MISSOURI.

Willett, the Farmers' Candidate for Governor, Probably Elected.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Nov. 6.—In the Seventh district later returns indicate the election of Simpson (Dem.). Hollowell (Rep.) lost his own county by 200 majority. The Farmers' Alliance voted for Simpson. Returns from the Fifth district point to the election of Warren (Dem.) over Phillips (Rep.). Fuller returns indicate the election of Willett, farmers' candidate for governor.

MONTANA.

The Returns Coming in Slowly and Show Heavy Democratic Gains.

HELENA, Mont., Nov. 5.—The returns are coming in very slowly, but all combine to show heavy Democratic gains. The Republicans elected the congressman last year by 1,600 majority. The returns so far have wiped this out. Secretary Steel, of the Democratic state committee, claims the state for Dixon by 1,000. Secretary Walter, of the Republican committee, says Carter has carried it by from 300 to 500.

OLD WORLD NEWS.

Mount Calvary and Other Sacred Places to Be Fenced In.

LONDON, Nov. 6.—It is said that the new London syndicate, of which Sir Andrew Clarke is chief, to which the sultan has granted special privileges in Asiatic Turkey and Palestine, proposes to fence in Mount Calvary and other spots of sacred interest, and exact admission fees from visitors.

A Paris dispatch says that one of the Republican deputies proposes to introduce a bill confiscating the estates in France of the Count and Countess of Paris. The latter has recently inherited immense wealth from her father, the Duke of Montpensier.

Capt. Jerome Becker, the Belgian explorer, recommends that agricultural colonies of Belgian and other European criminals be established on the upper Congo, where, he says, there are lands well suited for such settlements. In his argument on the subject he asserts that North America was largely settled in this way, and that the convict element has proved favorable to the progress of Australia.

The British government has entered into a scheme to supply the planters of Jamaica with contract laborers from Hindostan, the native negroes of Jamaica being unwilling to work on the plantations.

Advices from Constantinople bring additional horrible details of the treatment of Armenians in the prisons there. Hagop, the young Armenian who shot an archpriest, had live coals put in the palms of his hands, and was whipped as he lay on his bare back. He was also subjected before death to indignities too horrible to mention.

A mail coach was stopped by brigands a few days ago near Vizzini, Sicily, and a desperate encounter took place between the robbers and the passengers. Several of the combatants were killed. The outlaws were finally victorious, and secured a large amount of money and valuables. Travel in Catania and other comparatively remote provinces of Italy is daily becoming more dangerous, owing to the failure of the government to suppress brigandage.

A telegram from Belgrade says that the young king Alexander of Servia, who is but 15 years of age, is seriously troubled with ophthalmia, and that the condition of his eyes is critical.

BRIEF MENTION.

The chamber of deputies of the grand duchy of Luxemburg declared King William incapable of governing, and the Duke of Nassau was called upon to take the oath as regent.

Rollins Bingham, son of ex-state Treasurer Gen. George C. Bingham, of Kansas City, Mo., has absconded and is said to have obtained $25,000 by forgery.

A passenger train on Chicago and Northwestern road was wrecked at Beloit, Wis. Fireman Welsh was instantly killed and Engineer Egan was badly injured.

General Master Workman Powderly, in The Knights of Labor Journal, publishes a sensational article predicting, if open labor organizations are crushed out, the formation of secret orders whose lawless members cannot be restrained from acts of violence.

Since the 1st inst. the treasury department has paid out $20,000,000 on account of pensions, causing a reduction of the surplus to that extent.

The Prince of Wales opened the first electric railway in England, running from the City of London under the Thames to South London.

Mrs. Arsene Julian, who with her 14 months-old babe was burned at Bethlehem by the explosion of a coal oil lamp, died.

Joel Rutan, Benjamin Shay and Robert Shay have been arrested as accessories to the murder of Mrs. Nellie Foster by William Decker, in Elmira, N. Y. Rutan is an uncle of the murderer, and all three are charged with aiding his escape.

MINNESOTA.

Merriman Elected Governor—Both Sides Claiming Gains.

ST. PAUL, Minn., Nov. 6.—Governor Merriam is undoubtedly elected, but by a largely reduced plurality—probably from 2,000 to 5,000. The legislature is close. Nothing definite is known as to the results of the congressional contests. Both sides are claiming gains.

Washington Republican.

SEATTLE, Wash., Nov. 6.—Wilson's (Rep.) majority for congress will probably reach 5,000. Both branches of the legislature will be Republican, and on the joint ballot the Republicans will probably have 40 majority.

North Dakota Republican.

BISMARCK, N. D., Nov. 6.—Capt. A. H. Burke (Rep.) for governor is elected by about 8,000 plurality, and the balance of the Republican state ticket will have pluralities ranging from 5,000 to 7,500.

Connecticut Democratic.

HARTFORD, Nov. 6.—One hundred and sixty-seven towns out of 168 give Merwin (Dem.) an apparent majority for governor of 3,335. Congressional delegation, 3 Democrats, 1 Republican.

Indiana Democratic.

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 6.—One hundred and eighty townships in Indiana show a net Democratic gain of 3,816.

A Serious Killing Affray.

RICHMOND, Ky., Nov. 6.—A serious difficulty occurred at Irvine, in which John Wilson, superintendent of public schools, and Dr. Lilly, son of Judge Lilly, were killed. Grant Lilly was also seriously wounded. Several others were slightly hurt. No details were learned here save that it was over the election, one being a Republican and the other a Democrat.

No Extra Session.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6.—It can be stated on the authority of a cabinet officer that the president will not call an extra session of congress. The 1st of December comes on Monday and congress will meet in regular session on that day. There is no urgency demanding an extra session, it is stated on the same authority, and that the reasons that were potent in suggesting it several weeks ago do not hold now.

Only four weeks remain before the regular session begins, and members of congress from distant states could hardly arrive here in time for a session if one were called. These and other reasons, it is stated, have led the president to the determination not to call an extra session. This conclusion was reached at the last session of the cabinet, held Friday, Oct. 31.

Editor Ross Dead.

BOSTON, Nov. 8.—Alphonso Ross, for many years financial editor of The Boston Advertiser, is dead.

BRIEF MENTION.

A woman who calls herself Mabel Morton, has written from North Adams, Mass., to the Canadian minister of justice professing to having committed the murder of Fred C. Benwell, for which Birchall is now under sentence of death.

Additional precautions are being taken to guard the czar against assassins.

The semi-annual convocation of the supreme commandery of the Knights of Malta was held at Phillipsburg, N. J.

Gen. Schofield, commander of the army, in his annual report recommends that the important seaboard cities should be adequately fortified, and that each coast should be provided with a fleet of sea going battle ships.

Judgments aggregating $676,121 for money loaned to her in England were entered against the property of the Duchess of Marlborough in New York.

A hurricane passed over the southwest of Ireland yesterday. A number of houses at Skibbereen were wrecked.

Thirty horses were burned to death at the stable in the rear of 1,843 Vineyard street, Philadelphia.

Daniel Taylor and Samuel Riegel were killed and William Pettit probably fatally hurt by a falling wall at Doylestown, Pa.

Secretary Noble has refused the second application of Mayor Grant for a census recount of the population of New York city.

Glorious Gettysburg.

Everyone is interested in the great battle fought on our own soil during those three memorable July days of 1863 and all our citizens will be glad to learn that we are going to have the stupendous fight repeated in our midst, for our veteran friends of Post 95, G. A. R., have arranged to bring here on December 1s the magnificent reproduction of the fa" mous fight, gotten up and painted by Frank D. Briscoe, of Philadelphia, one of the greatest artists of our time. Once more we shall hear the roar of the guns and learn the thrilling story of the "Battle of the Century."

A PECULIAR KNOCK OUT.

Gibbons Puts Cushing to Sleep in the Nineteenth Round.

A HIT ON THE CHEEK DID IT.

It Was Either's Fight Up to the Point Where Gibbons, for the Third Time in the Battle, Swung His Right and Landed on Cushing's Cheek Bone.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Nov. 8.—The skin glove fight for $1,000 a side between Austin Gibbons, of Paterson, and Mike Cushing, of Williamsburg, N. Y., took place near here at an early hour Friday morning. Cushing was knocked out in the nineteenth round. The fight has been the leading topic among sporting men since the Dixon-Murphy fight. Among those present were Jake Kilrain, John Kelly, "Snapper" Garrison, Jim Carroll, Florrie Sullivan, Larry Killen, Larry Moran, Jack Ashton, Bill Adler, Stanley French, Ike Garson, George Miller, Andy Godfrey and Frank Pray. Gibbons defeated Cushing in a twenty-four round fight about a year ago, but Cushing's friends claimed that he was not in condition, hence their anxiety to bring another match on.

Time was called at 4:07. Gibbons was handled by Charley Norton, Jim Gibbons and Hewie Hodgkins, while Con McAuliffe, Jack Fogarty and Jack Quinn looked after Cushing. A Providence man was referee, and Mike Slattery and Red Adler were timekeepers.

The disparity in the sizes of the men was apparent when they faced each other. Cushing was trained down pretty fine, but the biceps and shoulder development of Gibbons was prodigious, the muscles standing out on his arms like whipcords and forming in writhing masses on his back and shoulders. His height and tremendous reach also gave him an immense advantage. He played his usual waiting game, repeatedly backing over into his corner after advancing to the call of time.

He Tantalized Cushing.

He tantalized Cushing also by laughing at him and feinting, and in fact he rattled Cushing in the tenth round just before he gave him the knock-out blow by these very tactics. The blow that did the business was the third, a right hander that Gibbons landed in the face of his opponent, and was high up on the cheek bone, where Gibbons had already raised a swelling. This is the first instance of a blow of that description causing such results, although it can be explained by students of anatomy. Throughout the whole fight there was very little sharp work, there being several rounds in which no blow was struck. What fighting there was, however, was generally forced by Cushing, who hit clean and straight, although failing to return whenever Gibbons rushed him with both hands. Some of his cross countering and clean hitting, however, was very pretty. He gave Gibbons a staggerer in the chest in the eleventh round that sent him clear across the ring, and he was only saved from falling by the settees. He failed to follow up his advantage, however, and Gibbons quickly recovered.

AUSTIN GIBBONS.

The nineteenth round opened up with both men apparently fresh, and it looked as though the real fun was but just beginning. In fact, it really seemed anybody's fight, although it was noticed that whenever Gibbons started in to rush with his right arm and left Cushing could never withstand him, while Cushing almost invariably countered him heavily in straight arm blows. It was in these rushes that Gibbons' weight told.

That Terrible Right Hander.

The round lasted scarcely a minute. The men came together, but Gibbons rather forced the fighting, following Cushing up. After a little sparring he led with his left in a feint, and swinging his right for the third time in the fight he landed on the already swollen cheek of his opponent.

Cushing dropped his hands, staggered across the ring and dropped on his side to the floor. He seemed to try and save himself, but his shoulders fell over and he stiffened out, apparently unconscious. The referee slowly counted the seconds, his friends called him to get up, there was a convulsive shiver of his frame and he seemed to struggle to arise, but could not lift his head. The time was up, and his seconds roused him from the floor, while a shout went up from Gibbons' friends.

Gibbons was apparently unharmed, and the only mark on Cushing was the big bunch on his left cheek, which had split open and was bleeding. He took his defeat to heart when he rallied, but was still dazed when the witnesses left him in the care of his seconds. The fight occupied just one hour and thirteen minutes.

Truckee's Big Fire.

TRUCKEE, Cal., Nov. 8.—A disastrous fire which started in a wood pile in the rear of the St. Louis brewery on Front street yesterday was undoubtedly of incendiary origin. The wood had been saturated with coal oil and a horse kept in the stable had been stolen. Sparks and burning fragments were carried throughout the business portion of the town by the high wind prevailing. Efforts to stop the wind were unavailing until the wind shifted and drove the flames back. The loss as far as known aggregates $110,000; insurance about $20,000.

If He's Caught He'll Swing.

ARLINGTON, Tenn., Nov. 8.—Mrs. O. G. Bailey, wife of a prominent citizen of this place, was killed last night with a flatiron by a negro whom she had refused money. The murderer escaped. A large posse of citizens are in pursuit with intent to lynch him.

Wants to Be Mayor.

Jameson's Wife Denies the Story About Her Dead Husband.

A FRIGHTFUL COLLISION.

Ten Persons Killed and Eight Seriously Injured—Six of the Victims Slowly Burned to Death in the Presence of Horrified Spectators.

LONDON, Nov. 12.—It now transpires that shortly before his death Lieut. Jameson telegraphed to his wife as follows: "All reports about me emanating from Asaad Farran, a dismissed interpreter, are false. If made public, stop them. Am sending necessary papers."

Mrs. Jameson stated that the "necessary papers" had been received and were addressed to the Emin Pasha relief committee, in whose hands they now are, and by whom they will doubtless be made public when the proper time arrives.

Mrs. Jameson declined to make any further statement, but declared positively that the reports that her husband had bought a girl or caused her to be bought for the purposes alleged are absolute falsehoods. She leaves the matter in the hands of the committee.

Stanley and his statements are still the sensation of the hour. The Daily News says: "There is no sort of doubt, after Surgeon Bonny's personal narrative of the horrors of Yambuya, that the whole subject should receive full investigation by a competent tribunal. Bonny's statements confirm all that Stanley has asserted, assertions that have filled the world with disgust and all Englishmen with dismay.

"The time is past in the literature of the expedition for mere travelers' notes or for descriptions of the manners and customs of savage tribes. Interest now centers nearer home. We have to prove that our civilization does not produce worse barbarism than that of Africa."

The public are now asking what has become of Asaad Farran, as it is stated that he has been spirited away by the Emin Pasha relief committee, and precautions taken to prevent his talking.

A Frightful Wreck.

LONDON, Nov. 12.—News has been received here of a terrible accident on the Great Western railway at Norton Fitz-Warren station, near Taunton, this morning. A heavily laden goods train crashed into a special passenger train from Plymouth, which was conveying to London the passengers from the Cape of Good Hope who had arrived by the steamship Norham Castle. Ten persons are reported killed and eight injured, several seriously.

Later advices from the scene of the wreck state that the special train bearing from Plymouth to London the passengers of the steamer Norham Castle, from the Cape of Good Hope, was made up of four passenger coaches containing fifty passengers. It was pitch dark and a drenching rain was falling when, at 2 o'clock, the special, running at the rate of fifty miles an hour, dashed by the little Somersetshire village and into destruction.

The signal man on duty had forgotten that the heavily laden Great Western goods train was standing on the up track to permit of the down mail passing on its way in safety, as it did. The danger signals were not displayed to the engineer of the oncoming special, and with all the impact and momentum of its weight and tremendous speed the doomed train hurled itself upon the goods train in its path. The force of the collision was such that at the moment of contact the first coach of the special was literally smashed into matchwood.

Almost immediately after the collision sparks from the engine furnaces communicated to the debris, and the horror of fire was added to the terrors of the catastrophe. Before anything could be done toward rescuing them six of the occupants of the first coach, who had escaped in the awful crash, were slowly burned to death in the presence of fellow human beings, who were powerless to release them from the flames which gradually enveloped and slowly consumed their bodies.

One of the passengers who had been killed at the moment the trains came together presented a ghastly spectacle, his head having been severed from his body as cleanly as though it had been done by the guillotine.

Darkest England.

LONDON, Nov. 12.—Every one here is talking of Archdeacon Farrar's remarkable discourse on Sunday in reference to the Salvation Army and Gen. Booth's proposal, as outlined in his book on "Darkest England." It is admitted by common consent to be one of the reverend orator's finest efforts, and has given a notable impulse to the movement, exciting sympathy for Gen. Booth and his work.

The archdeacon is anxious that Gen. Booth's scheme shall not be regarded as antagonistic to the Church of England, but rather as a gigantic plan of social philanthropy. Both men propose to address themselves, in the first instance, to the relief of physical wants, and when this end has been attained they will welcome the co-operation of the churches in things spiritual. The well known actor Mr. Bancroft offers to be one of 100 to subscribe £1,000.

Koch's Wonderful Cure.

BERLIN, Nov. 12.—Several of the patients whom he has been treating for consumption have been dismissed by Dr. Koch as entirely cured. Dr. Pfuhl, son-in-law of Professor Koch, promises that within three weeks the method of treatment will be made public. The method, he says, is not exactly of the nature of inoculation, and he claims that it will cure tuberculous skin disease speedily and certainly.

Castioni Goes Free.

LONDON, Nov. 12.—In the queen's bench division of the high court of justice Tuesday a hearing was had on the appeal of Castioni, the Swiss Radical who, after being arrested in this city for the murder of Counselor Rossi during the recent revolution at Bellinoza, Switzerland, was ordered to be surrendered to the Swiss authorities. After hearing argument the court concluded to grant a writ of habeas corpus, and Castioni will be discharged from custody.

The Flurry in London.

LONDON, Nov. 12.—By 2 o'clock Tuesday the stock market had quieted down somewhat and prices were steady. The account has been pretty well arranged. It shows several stocks to be in a bear position. Loan rates for continuation are much lower, and but one failure has thus far been reported—that of a small broking firm.

CHURCH TROUBLES.

The Chicago Presbytery Finds Rev. Dr. Williams Guilty.

CHICAGO, Nov. 12.—The Chicago presbytery has found the Rev. Dr. H. S. Williams, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, of Englewood, guilty of every charge brought against him. All of yesterday and far into the night the trial lasted, and before the close the members were tangled up in a parliamentary wrangle.

For almost a year this long drawn out case has been before the people. The trouble originated in a question of authority between the pastor and the corporate body on one side and the elders on the other. The elders claimed that they and the presbytery should control the church and its property, while those indorsing Mr. Williams claimed that the church, so far as its control went, was a legal entity entirely separate from ecclesiastical jurisdiction.

On this last ground, the differences having grown notorious, the matter was carried into the civil courts, and before its settlement in the sustainment of the elders' injunction had been reached was also brought before the presbytery. In both contests the elders have been victorious. No question as to the pastor's moral character has ever been hinted at in either case, but both friends and foes have acknowledged that his actions in antagonizing the elders were injudicious.

After the Presbytery had voted the pastor guilty a committee reported a verdict, which recommended that Mr. Williams be severely and publicly reprimanded and that his pastorate be taken from him. This caused the Rev. Dr. Withrow to make an eloquent plea for the accused. A lively two hours' debate ensued. Motions were numerous.

What was finally adopted was a mild amendment to the first part of the committee's report, authorizing the moderator to admonish the Rev. Mr. Williams publicly; that while he had had serious provocation, yet he had been guilty of continued indiscretion in the management of his church. This was passed with the understanding that something would follow concerning to the pastor's future relation to his church.

But at this point Dr. McPherson moved that the resolution already adopted be proclaimed as the final judgment of the presbytery in the case. This precipitated another long discussion, many speakers claiming that their previous vote for a mild part of the sentence had been obtained under false pretenses. Finally about midnight the presbytery adjourned.

The counter trial of the elders comes up next Monday, and if Mr. Williams has not resigned by that time it is asserted that he will then be asked to do so.

Feeling Runs High.

SHERWOOD, O., Nov. 12.—The ill feeling that has for some time existed between the German and English factions of the Reformed church culminated in legal proceedings being instituted by the Germans, and as a result the edifice is closed against worshipers, the key being in possession of the county sheriff. Each faction has a preacher of its own, and excitement runs high. The presence of several officers is required to preserve order. It is feared the church edifice will be burned.

Attempt to Wreck a Train.

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—Capt. Cortright, of the West One Hundred and Fifty-second street precinct, reported to Acting Superintendent Byrnes Tuesday the particulars of an apparent attempt which was made to wreck a Hudson River railroad train. According to Capt. Cortright's report, some unknown person placed a sapling across the Hudson River tracks at One Hundred and Forty-eighth street. The ends were fastened to the rails with pieces of wire rope. A south bound freight train ran into the obstruction, demolishing it and throwing the broken fragments of the stick from the track. The train passed safely and no one was injured, nor was any damage done. Capt. Cortright and Detective McSperry are investigating the affair. As yet they have obtained no clew to the person who placed the obstruction on the track.

Newspaper Men Play Billiards.

CHICAGO, Nov. 12.—The handicap amateur billiard tournament for Chicago newspaper men opened at the Brunswick-Balke-Collender warerooms last night. Over 500 spectators were present. Joseph A. Murphy, of The Tribune (150 points), defeated Charles G. Seymour, of The Herald (100 points), by a score of 150 to 132. Jake Schaefer and Frank Ives gave exhibitions at the balk line and four space games and Yank Adams twirled finger carroms.

A Mayor Deposed for Inebriety.

BRAZIL, Ind., Nov. 12.—At a secret session of the city council last night Jacob Herr was deposed as mayor for alleged inebriety. He was elected by a majority of 19 in May, 1889, although his party (the Republicans) carried the city by majorities averaging nearly 200. Mr. Herr may contest the legality of the proceeding in court.

Mercury Way Down.

ST. PAUL, Minn., Nov. 12.—The thermometer registered 10 degs. above zero, the coldest day for the time of the year in nineteen years.

The Horse Show.

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—The second day of the national horse show opened under rather inauspicious conditions, the rainy weather keeping many persons away. Several prizes were awarded, chiefly to "Normans."

A Philadelphia Failure.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 12.—Narr & Friend, brokers, have failed. Mr. Narr was a member of the New York Stock Exchange.

Esterhazy Dead.

VIENNA, Nov. 12.—Count Maurice Esterhazy, formerly Austrian minister to the Vatican, is dead.

TRAIN APPLAUDS SUCCI.

The Citizen Sends the Faster a Characteristic Letter.

HE'S A PUBLIC BENEFACTOR.

That's What the Citizen Tells Him, and Says That He Is Bound to Win—Succi's Sixth Day Finds Him Quite Lively. His Daily Loss in Flesh.

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—Signor Succi, the Italian gentleman who proposes to live for thirty-nine more days on New York air, water and newspaper notoriety, is now on the sixth day of his fight against his stomach. He is just about used to going without food now, and is progressing magnificently. He has changed his water, and now drinks Kaiser as an experiment.

The sixth day of his fast began at 8:10 o'clock Monday night. He was then feeling in good spirits and strong. At 8:16 he lighted a cigar and puffed away at it as if he enjoyed it immensely. Succi smoked but a single cigar yesterday. At 8:45 he took a dose of four ounces of croton and at 12:30 another four ounces.

Then the gas was turned down, and the faster prepared for the night's rest. He jumped into bed at 12:41, and was asleep in a very short while. His breathing throughout the night was quiet and easy. Succi did not stir until 3 o'clock in the morning, when he partly awoke. He appeared to be uneasy for several minutes, and then he fell asleep again, and did not stir until he awoke for the day at 8:58. He was then in good spirits.

Losing Two Pounds and a Half Daily.

At 3 o'clock Monday afternoon Succi's pulse was at 60, and Tuesday morning it was at 66, with the faster on his back. He weighed 132 pounds when weighed Tuesday morning. This is a loss of 2 pounds since Monday morning. Succi weighed 147.25 pounds when he began his fast. He has lost 15 pounds, or an average of 2½ pounds a day.

His temperature at 9:30 o'clock Tuesday morning was 97, and his grip measured 52 kilos. He drank in all twenty-three ounces of water Monday and took eighteen drops of his elixir. He says that the elixir soothes his stomach, and prevents the bad breath the close air of the room in which he lives would give him.

Succi seemed to take great pleasure in exhibiting and rereading criticisms of the various London newspapers on his previous feats. He talked eagerly of the food stuffs he would devour at the end of his fast. For the first six days he will exist on beef tea, extracts of meats and milk. After that he will eat fish and veal and will drink wine.

The early hours of the morning were partly lightened by the arrival of two letters, a full fledged letter and a postal card, from George Francis Train, or Sir Francis, as Succi afterward called him. The letters were addressed to "Citizen Senor Succi, champion faster of Cosmos, Koster & Bial's, city." The letter was composed as per Mr. Train. It read:

Train's Greeting.

Dear Citizen Succi, Champion Faster of all Nations:

Of course you will win. You can go 100 days. Everybody eats too much. One-third is ample. You are a public benefactor when teaching laws of life. I have reduced death rate 100 a week by checkmating gorging. My bowl of oatmeal and cup of coffee now only weigh one and one-half pounds. If you take two pounds of water I discount you in my ordinary diet for sixteen years. You will do all you say you will do. Success to you and the Italian people. I lost four pounds today in two hours, Turkish bath. I have written to Dayton, O., to have the Round World game sent you. This Japanese Round World coin is your fast mascot. Of course you will win. You can run 100 days. I scored 135 on small pot chocolate, night and morning, at this hotel. Ask reporters, cooks, clerks. Ran down from 195 to 160.

The postal card was marked, "This card went with me 24,000 miles in sixty-six days." The card contained some more of the Citizen's remarks.

The Players' League Meets.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Nov. 12.—The first annual meeting of the Players' national league of baseball clubs was held in parlor F of the Monongahela house Tuesday. The clubs were represented as follows: Boston, J. B. Hart and Arthur Irwin; New York, Col. McAlpin, Frank Robinson and William Ewing; Cleveland, Al Johnson; Buffalo, F. F. Gilbert and James L. White; Brrooklyn, George Wirth and J. M. Ward; Philadelphia, Col. Vanderslice, the Wagner brothers, George Elliott, James Allen and George Wood; Chicago, John Addise; Cincinnati, Al Johnson, and Pittsburg, P. L. Anton, B. B. Rea, ex-Mayor McCallin and Ed Hanlon. Nothing outside of routine business was transacted up to the time of recess.

He Did His Work Quietly.

AUGUSTA, Ga., Nov. 12.—Two night trains on the Georgia railroad, one leaving Atlanta for Augusta at 11:30 and the other leaving Augusta for Atlanta at the same hour, were robbed. Messenger Ficklen, of the train for Augusta, who reached here yesterday, is a heavy loser, as a telegram from Atlanta says his packages amounted to $12,000. Both robberies were evidently the work of one man who knew the run of the road. The trains were not stopped, the robber mounting them at a station quietly and doing his work, and getting off at the next. Messenger Smith, on the other train, loses about $100.

The National Fraternal Congress.

PITTSBURG, Nov. 12.—The National Fraternal congress, composed of beneficial organizations, began a two days' convention in this city Tuesday. Thirty-five societies are represented by fifty delegates. Twenty million dollars was paid out last year in benefits by the organizations belonging to the congress. At Tuesday's session President Shields delivered his annual address, after which there was a brief business session. Wednesday reports of committees will be heard, and the election of officers will take place. Thursday evening a banquet will be given in honor of the delegates.

The Irish Coast Swept.

LONDON, Nov. 12.—The Welsh and Irish coasts are being swept by a furious gale, and great quantities of wreckage are being washed ashore. The rain falls incessantly, and the mountain streams are raging torrents. In the Festiniog district numbers of workmen's cottages have been carried away.

DR. B. J. KENDALL CO.:

Dear Sirs:—I have used several bottles of your Kendall's Spavin Cure with perfect success, on a valuable and blooded mare that was quite lame with a Bone Spavin. The mare is now entirely free from lameness and shows no bunch on the joint.

Respectfully, F. H. HUTCHINS.

KENDALL'S SPAVIN CURE.

MONROE, La., May 8, '90.

DR. B. J. KENDALL CO.,

Gents:—I think it my duty to render you my thanks for your far famed Kendall's Spavin Cure. I had a four year old filly which I prized very highly. She had a very severe swollen leg. I tried about eight different kinds of medicines which did no good. I purchased a bottle of your Kendall's Spavin Cure which cured her in four days.

I remain yours,
MARION DOWDEN.

Price $1 per bottle, or six bottles for $5. All druggists have it or can get it for you, or it will be sent to any address on receipt of price by the proprietors.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that Contain Mercury.

As mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, and acts directly upon the blood and mucuous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally, and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co. Sold by druggists, 75cts per bottle.

A Reliable Port Wine.

Mr. A Speer, of New Jersey, whose Port Grape wine has such a wide reputation, and which physicians prescribe so generally, was the first in this country to import Port Wine Grape vines from the banks of the river Doura, in Portugal where the finest old time ports were made, and to plant vineyards of them in New Jersey. His Port, Burgundy and Claret, which are now the best wines to be had, have become a great favorite among the New York, Philadelphia and Washington society.

Baby Cured.

My baby had the worse case of Catarrh that I ever saw a small child afflicted with. The nasal discharge was very large and very offensive. Having some personal knowledge of the curative properties of S. S. S. I gave the baby a course of S. S. S., using nothing else. In a short time the discharge from the nose stopped, and the catarrh was cured entirely and permanently, as there has been no return of it since.

THE MYSTERY DEEPENS.

Another Startling "Confession" in the Birchall Case.

BRISTLING WITH THREATS.

The Writer Says if Birchall Dies His Jurors Will All Be Killed and Judge McMahon Will Be Murdered if His Gang Has to Wreck a Train to Do It.

BUFFALO, Nov. 12.—The latest in the confessions concerning the Benwell murder was published in The Evening News Tuesday. It purports to be from a man in Buffalo, is dated here and postmarked Monday. The handwriting is pinched and unlike that of Birchall. The letter is signed by J. J. Litchfield, who does not live here and whose name does not appear in the city directory.

In effect the letter says:

An Organized Gang.

"I have waited to give Birchall his last chance to defend himself from the death that now awaits him for the crime of which he is innocent. I am a member of the conspiracy who dealt with moneyed Englishmen who were brought out here to be robbed of their wealth, and we also had an office in Cornhill, London, England, until the arrest of Birchall.

"Previous to our holding our office there we held it at Pentinville Hill, near St. Pancras station, London, and our first victim was Augustus Alderson, eldest son of F. E. Alderson, rector of Holdenoy, Northampton, England, and who is related to Lord Salisbury. We took him to have money with him, and we watched him closely during his stay in Canada until we found he had squandered it all, and then he returned home.

Says Birchall Is Innocent.

"At this time we were working this alone for years previous to Birchall's coming to this country. I acknowledge he is implicated in the robbery of Benwell, and that he was at Eastwood the day of the murder, and that all four of us were at the Blenheim swamp when Benwell and Birchall came along on Feb. 17. We met them and tried to induce Benwell to swear to assist us in our business or we would kill him. Benwell would not listen or reason with us and we shot him and then cut his name from his clothing. We then told Birchall to get out of the country and gave him what articles we had taken from Benwell. We told Birchall that we had chloroformed Benwell, and he did not know that he had been murdered.

A Dire Threat.

The writer says he has had hard work to keep one of the gang from confessing. The letter then continues:

"As sure as Birchall dies not one board shall be left of the buildings of the jurymen who sent him to his death. We have Judge McMahon spotted, and should we have to wreck a train to murder him we will, and we hereby notify him of the death awaiting him and the jurymen also."

The letter concludes: "If I were to give the history of our past life it would fill many pages of the darkest crimes ever known or thought of in our present day, and should Birchall be hung it will make two men executed for our deeds, besides one undergoing life imprisonment."

Is Pickthall the "Colonel."

SARNIA, Ont., Nov. 12.—A few nights ago a man saying he was Newell Pickthall, who at one time was thought to be implicated in the murder of Benwell, applied for a night's lodging at the lockup here. He said he came from Michigan and was on his way to Woodstock. He left the next morning for that place. It is surmised that possibly Pickthall may be the author of the "Colonel" letter from Jackson, Mich.

Birchall Protests His Innocence.

WOODSTOCK, Ont., Nov. 12—Birchall continues to protest his innocence of the murder of Benwell, and says that the mystery in which the tragedy is enshrouded will be cleared up before long. He professes to believe that Benwell's watch will yet be found, and he volunteers the information that the murdered man was not killed where he was found.

Kingfisher's Chance.

GUTHRIE, O. T., Nov. 12.—The legislature yesterday passed the bill locating the territorial capital at Kingfisher. The bill now goes to the governor, who has five days in which to either approve or veto it. It is generally believed he will veto it.

St Jacobs Oil Cures

PROMPTLY AND PERFECTLY

BRUISES, SWELLINGS, CUTS, &c.

A bruise is a contusion; swellings are inflammations; cuts and wounds are alike disturbances to natural action, through which the veins are clogged, circulation impeded, congestion sets in and pains ensue. Nature is impatient—it tries to right itself and pain intensifies. Bruises and swellings need a soothing influence, but in cuts and wounds hardly any one would pour a liquid remedy into a gaping wound. So soon as nature brings the parts together, almost at once,

St Jacobs Oil soothes clears away obstructions, heals the injured tissues and restores. Used according to directions, it helps nature and cures

RAIN! RAIN! RAIN!

If there's one set of men who appreciate a good waterproof coat it is the farmer. He knows that a "Fish Brand Slicker" costs him less per year than any garment made. Did you know it rains or snows one day in three the whole year through? A "Fish Brand Slicker" makes every day a pleasant day to its lucky owner. Go anywhere with it in rain, hail, sleet, snow, or blow, it is wind and water proof. Costs less than rubber, and lasts ten times as long. Rubber is good for show days, but will rip in a week. If you want a coat for hard wear and hard weather, get the "Fish Brand Slicker." Every good thing has its imitation, so has the "Fish Brand Slicker." Look out. Beware of worthless imitations, every garment stamped with "Fish Brand" Trade Mark. Don't accept any inferior coat when you can have the "Fish Brand Slicker" delivered without extra cost. A MYSTERIOUS MURDER.

A Wealthy Old Man Found with His Head Crushed In.

MERCED, Cal., Nov. 12.—A mysterious murder was committed near Merced Falls, a small village on the Merced river, about twenty miles from this city. John L. Ivett, 70 years of age, and worth half a million, and without an enemy, was the victim.

Ivett lived at his ranch near Merced Falls with his wife, a young girl of 20, to whom he had been married about two years. He had two houses, one occupied by his ranchmen, of whom there were usually a dozen, and the other in which he lived himself. The latter house was about 200 yards from the other up a small hill.

It was Ivett's practice to retire early, and on Sunday evening he left the lower house, saying that he would go home and write a letter to his wife, who has been in San Francisco for some time. He was not seen again until yesterday morning, when one of the ranchmen found his body at the head of the stairway leading to the wine cellar.

It is conjectured that after going home Ivett lit the lamp and began to write a letter to his wife, as unfinished pages were found on his desk. It is supposed that the murderer rode up to the house at this time, tied his horse outside, and entering the room where Ivett was engaged in conversation with him. Ivett, who was a very hospitable old gentleman, doubtless invited the man to go to the wine cellar with him, as this was his rule with all visitors.

It is supposed that as they came up from the wine cellar together Ivett stooped to close the cellar door, when the other man struck him two murderous blows on the head with a hatchet or a similar instrument. The old man fell partly down the stairway, the cellar door catching and holding his foot. The coroner's jury is now in session, but nothing definite as to the identity of the murderer is yet known. It is thought that robbery could not have been the motive for the crime, as no valuables in the house or on the body were disturbed.

The Jay Cooke Failure.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 12.—The trustees of the estate of Jay Cooke & Co. announce the payment of the final dividend upon claims presented before Monday next. The final dividend will be 1¼ per cent. in cash on $6,451,000 and 8⅛ shares of Northern Pacific preferred stock, 3⅛ shares of Oregon Steamship and Navigation company stock, and three-quarters of a share of preferred stock of the St. Paul and Duluth railroad to each $1,000 of claim to creditors holding that amount and upwards. With the payment of this dividend the affairs of Jay Cooke & Co. will be wound up and the total amount of cash paid on it will have been 15½ per cent. on $6,451,000. The liabilities when the firm failed in 1872 were nearly $11,000,000, but this amount has been reduced by litigation, compromises and various forms of redemption to the figure above named, less than 60 per cent. There has been no dividend since 1881. During the process of winding up the estate the Jay Cooke interest has acquired about one-half the outstanding claims through redemption and purchase. In the distribution of bonds and stocks to the creditors the amount in the aggregate realized has more than exceeded the extent of the claims.

And Then the Jurors Laughed.

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—Richard A. E. Goebler, a barber, came to this city over a year ago from Butte City, Mon., and was buncoed out of $1,500 by three men. He afterward acted as his own detective in the case, and at the point of a pistol bagged two of them, Louis E. Davis and Charles Morgan, both of whom were convicted and sentenced to state prison. A few weeks ago the third man, George Johnson, was arrested. At the trial today of George Johnson during the cross examination Goebler admitted that he had agreed to give up the prosecution of one of the defendants if he could get $5,000. When this was made known the jurors laughed outright and the prosecuting attorney abandoned the case. Johnson was acquitted without the jurors leaving the stand. Judge Cowing said: "I think it unsafe to convict this defendant on such testimony. The complainant is a confessed blackmailer. Goebler, you had better get out of this state and practice your cunning somewhere else."

WILL HAVE TO FACE THE MUSIC.

A Pair of Precious Rogues Must Go Back to Prussia.

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—Simon and Julius Krojanker, brothers, of Bromberg, Prussia, where they were engaged in the grain business, became financially embarrassed, and obtained thousands of dollars from bankers upon fictitious bills of lading of grain. After getting all the money from their unsuspecting bankers they could upon these bogus bills of lading they deserted their families, fled to England, and after some time came here.

The German government learned that they had sailed for New York and notified the German consul in this city. Upon the latter's complaint the brothers were arrested on the steamer which brought them hither. After a lengthy hearing Commissioner Lyman held them for extradition. Their counsel sued out a writ of habeas corpus, and the case was gone over before Judge Lacombe, of the United States circuit court.

Tuesday Judge Lacombe rendered a decision dismissing the writ, so that the two brothers will have to be returned to the German government.

Armed Texans Swear They Will Resist a Federal Court's Decree.

GRAHAM, Tex., Nov. 12.—Every peace officer in Young county is in jail, having been indicted by the United States grand jury for participation, either actively or passively, in the famous mob which assaulted the jail to hang three murderers. The trial of three members of the mob is going on.

Twenty-five special United States deputies guard the jail, but the town is full of determined citizens, armed with Winchesters, who swear the United States court may convict but their neighbors shall not suffer the penalty. A riot will be precipitated by a conviction.

Must Go Back to Pittsburg.

TORONTO, Nov. 12.—Justice Galt has rendered judgment in the case of John C. Brosi, who is held at Sandwich, Ont., charged with forgery committed in Pittsburg, dismissing the application for his discharge, and holding that the evidence was sufficient, and ordering the prisoner to be remanded to await extradition.

BEWARE OF IMITATIONS.

Scrofula

Is the most ancient and most general of all diseases. Scarcely a family is entirely free from it, while thousands everywhere are its suffering slaves. Hood's Sarsaparilla has had remarkable success in curing every form of scrofula. The most severe and painful running sores, swellings in the neck or goitre, humor in the eyes, causing partial or total blindness, yield to the powerful effects of this medicine. It thoroughly removes every trace of impurity from the blood and builds up the weakened system.

"My little daughter's life was saved, as we believe, by Hood's Sarsaparilla. Before she was six months old she had 7 running scrofula sores. One physician advised the amputation of one of her fingers, to which we refused assent. When we began giving her Hood's Sarsaparilla, a marked improvement was noticed and by a continued use of it her recovery was complete. And she is now, being seven years old, strong and healthy." B. The beneficence of which every human being is almost as certain as he is of air, sunlight and breath, is Scrofula. Humor. Poor diet and insufficient food, ill ventilation, filth, and dampness, all assist the slumbering germs of Scrofula to overpower the vitality of the body and run riot in the system. The blood in its process of renewing the waste cannot expel any inherited taint of weakness or impurity. It can only be removed by the action of some purifying medicinal agency, which assisted by nutritious food, well digested and assimilated into blood, gradually insures the possession of sound health. Such a renovating remedy has Brown's Sarsaparilla proved itself to be.

A Terrible Slight.

One Autumn day the stage-coach from Boneville to Muskrat broke down just after it had passed the Skull Junction, and the passengers all had to get out and stand in the drizzle and mud till repairs could be made. At the Junction one of the two passengers occupying the back seat in the coach had left the party. The coach had been stopped in that vicinity by highwaymen before, and when it came to a halt there was a suspicion in the minds of several of the inmates that in some way it was a preconcocted plot to rob them. To make matters still worse, night was approaching.

The seats in the coach all faced to the front. The large man on the middle seat on the right hand side of the coach, when he realized that the forward part of the vehicle was settling down, said:

"Now what in———does this mean? Do they want us all to be robbed right here.'

And after the stage had stopped and a variety of observations had been make by several of the other passengers as to their probable fate, he thrust a fuzzy stove-pipe hat, a red face and short neck from under the drop curtain, rolled the three half around on a piane with the side of the coach, and remarked:

At about the same time a female passenger on the back seat cried:

"Mercy on us!"

And a voice outside said:

"Hello, this is a fix. Come, you'll have to get out."

The fuzzy stove-pipe followed the red face into the coach, and then four persons rose up and then all sat down again: The cause of this procedure was two-fold. First the hats of two male passengers, including the fuzzy stove-pipe, also the uncovered head of one female, all struck against the ceiling overhead. And, secondly, the weight of the robes and blankets resting on the knees and limbs of the said five, not being disengaged sufficiently, reacted as maliciously disposed to keep, them in the coach. Whether these things really caused the young lady with yellow ribbons to reseat herself cannot be determined with accuracy. It may be that, seeing the others go down, she thougt it the proper thing so to do, and acted accordingly; or it may be she noticed that the gentleman behind her, in the far corner of the coach, had not risen, and acted accordingly; or, and suspecting the propriety of having risen at all, she so suddenly went down again. The driver again thrust his head in at the side, with the remark:

"Come, Jake, why don't you get out? It's rainin' some. Here's two umbrel's and some 'ile clothes for you as hain't got none."

At the first remark the face of the large man, who had thrust one foot out on the rail in a second effort to extricate himself, proceeded to get more and more red, so that by the time the driver had rolled up and fastened the curtain at the top of the stage it resembled mahogany, and there was a tremulous motion about the lips not unlike the vibrating lid of a tea kettle.

Rising as nearly erect as circumstances would permit, he shot forth a fat, dumpy arm emphatically in the direction of the driver and exclaimed:

"Jo Litt'e, do you take me for a fool?"

"No, Jake; I don't care what other folks think," said the driver, quickly, "I don't take you for a fool. I take you for your fare."

The large man eyed Joseph savagely, placed his remaining foot on the rail, and took the mud at a leap; and it then appeared to the sharp-featured woman who was getting out that the large man was exceedingly short.

With many apologies to this passenger for the delay, the driver assisted her to alight, and escorting her to a dry plot on the roadside left her fortified with an enormous 'umbrel.'

Meanwhile a smooth-faced young man, with a glossy beaver, assisted the yellow ribbons ta alight, and immediately spared his silk umbrella for her accommodation and his own.

"All out?" asked Joe, who had taken out his horses and hitched them to a tree.

There stood the five in the mud and the drizzle; the remaining passenger occupying the rearmost seat, had not stirred.

"Come," said the driver, noticing this fact, and putting his head into the stage again: "Come, you'll have to get out, Mister, so we can raise up the ex."

The passenger sat still.

"Mebbe he's deef," continued Joe apealingly, to the other passengers.

"Mebbe he's one of the robbers, whispered the smooth-faced young man.

"O, my!" exclaimed yellow ribbons, clutching his arm convulsively.

Just then the large man with the short limbs, who with bowed head had been nervously pacing backward and forward near the coach, came to a halt and said "——!" in a very loud and excited mrnner. The driver glanced at that personage and said, quickly, "now, Jake, hold up." But then there burst from the mahogony lips of that large, short man a volley of oaths which caused the entire company outside the coach to stand aghast. It had drizzled before, but this was a storm—a hurricane—the import of it being that this was a plot to hold him up and rob him, and which did involve an inquiry, well sandwiched with oaths and imprecations as to why "that fool" didn't get out of the coach.

The sharp-featured woman came forward and made an observation.

"Why, the man is dead," said she.

And so it proved. He sat, or rather leaned back in the corner, and there was found a snap-catch in his coat collar, which was also fastened to the coach.

"That gives it up," declared the driver. "Ye see, that devil who left us at the Junction pizened this man when he took a drink with him, then garoted 'im and robbed 'im: He war the man no doubt who sawed into that ex some time last night, and I think it likely if there had been any more in the stage he thought wuth robbin' you wouldn't a been slighted so. But ye see, he war too perlite to rob Nance an you new married folks, an' as fur Jake, he must a knowed, jest to look at ye, hadn't hardly money enuugh to pay yer fare. Takin' it all in all, I think he war a very discriminatin' murderer."

After repairs had been made the vehicle went on its way with its occupants, but Jake was not noticed to say a word thereafter.

The dead man was duly buried, and, so far as known, the other passengers safely reached their several destinations, and without any regrets at having been so mercilessly slighted.

"Help! help!" shrieked a man who was struggling in the river.

"Can't you swim?" asked a sympathetic individual on the shore.

"Yes, I'm drowning just for fun," was the ironical reply.

Outlawry in Somerset County.

A fire, attended by sensational circumstances, occurred within a mile of Somerset about half-past seven o'clock Wednesday evening. The large barn on the Josiah Brant farm was totally destroyed. The farm and everything on it belongs now to Josiah Way, of near Somerset. Reports state that Mr. Brant was in the barn feeding stock when he was attacked by five masked men, who demanded his money. Being refused they struck him on the head with a club and also on the hands, knocking his lantern into the hay, quickly communicating to the building, The assailants then hastily departed. The live stock in the barn was rescued, but everything else was consumed, in al crops, grain, hay, etc. The building etc. was fully covered by insurance.

Dedication Day.

The Ladies' Aid Society issues its annual appeal for aid to enable The Hospital to carry on successfully its important work.

The members of the Society will be in attendance at the temporary building N. W. corner of Broad and Lombard Sts, on November 12th, from 2 to 6 p. m. They will gratefully accept contributions of money for the building fund or for furnishing the new building which is to be occupied on or about January 1st, 1891. Donations of delicacies for the sick, groceries, provisions, coal, furniture, muslin for band age sholousieholp purposes, cooking utensils, china, glass ware, carpets, rugs and all useful household articles are greatly needed.

The expenses of the new building will be great and this appeal is strongly urged so as to extend the peculiar usefulness of the Poly clinic hospital to a larger number of patients. During the year 1889 4607 new patients were treated and there were 18006 return visits of old cases making a total of 22613 in the 12 special departments. The patients came from 28 counties of Pennsylvania and 12 neighboring States. The work of the hospital for the ten months of 1890 has far exceeded that of any previous year and the cramped temporary quarters have proven totally inadequate to meet the increasing demands.

The new building will afford increased facilities and its usefulness must depend entirely upon the financial support given it by the public. Its far reaching charity as the only Post Graduate Medical college and hospital in the State of Pennsylvania carries the appeal for assistance outside the narrow limits of a local charity. Every physician who attends the Polyclinic the benefits he has received to the far distant sick poor of his neighborhood and to the rich as well.

Like the Johns Hopkins' University, etc., its benefits and its appeal are broad cast and it is hoped that similar generous responses may be obtained by the Philadelphia Polyclinic Hospital.

It is expected that the new building will be in condition to hold a Bazaar on December 3d and 4th so that there will be an opportunity to inspect this thoroughly new and modern hospital.

Checks should be drawn to the order of Mrs. H. Augustus Wilson, Treas. of the Ladies' Aid Society of the Polyclinic Hospital, or Henry Leffmonn, Treas. the Board of Trustees.

The Kill or Capture Idea.

Capt. Willard Bullard, Health Inspector, had many reminisences to recount. Among them was the following:

"At the time Gen. Sickles assumed command of the Second Division of the Third Corps after the second Bull Run he gave an elaborate dinner to the officers of his new Division, after wining and dining these, he sent for the officers of his old Excelsior Brigade, and said: 'Now, boys, we will have a family gathering, and pointing to the table he said, 'Treat it as you would the enemy,' which the boys did.

Capt. Brynes, a typical Irishman, after dinner, passed out, saying he was going to his tent. Gen. Sickles sauntered out, and caught the Captain stowing away three bottles of champagne in his saddle-bags.

"What, what!' gasped the General. 'What are you doing, Captain?'

"Obeying orders,' responded the Captain, in a firm voice."

'How is that?' said the General sternly.

'You told us to treat the dinner as we would the enemy, and you know, General, what we can't kill we capture, ejoined the witty Irishman.

"Hello! Tom. Glad to see you, old fellow! It's almost ten years since we were married. Sit down: let's have an experience meeting. How's the wife?"

"Oh! she's so-so, same as usual,—always wanting something I can't afford."

"Well, we all want something more than we've got. Don't you?"

"Yes: but I guess 'want will be my master.' I started to keep down expenses; and now Lil says I'm 'mean,' and she's tired of saving and never having anything to show for it. I saw your wife down street, and she looked as happy as a queen!"

"I think she is: and we are economical, too,—have to be. My wife can make a little go further than anyone I ever knew, yet she's always surprising me with some dainty contrivance that adds to the comfort and beauty of our little home, and she's always 'merry as a lark.' When I ask how she manages it, she always laughs and says: 'Oh! that's my secret!' But I think I've discovered her 'secret.' When we married, we both knew we should have to be very careful, but she made one condition; she would have her Magazine. And she was right! I wouldn't do without it myself for double the subscription price. We read it together, from the title-page to the last word: the stories keep our hearts young; the synopsis of important events and scientific matters keeps me posted so that I can talk understandingly of what is going on; my wife is always trying some new idea from the household department: she makes all her dresses and those for the children, and she gets all her patterns for nothing, with the Magazine; and we saved Joe when he was so sick with the croup, by doing just as directed in the Sanitarian Department. But I can't tell you half!"

"What wonderful Magazine is it?"

"Demorest's Family Magazine, and—"

"What! Why that's what Lil wanted so bad, and I told her it was an extravagance."

"Well, my friend, that's where you made a grand mistake, and one you'd better rectify as soon as you can. I'll take your 'sub.' right here, on my wife's account: she's bound to have a china tea-set in time for our tin wedding next month. My gold watch was the premium I got for getting up a club. Here's a copy, with the new Premium List for clubs,—the biggest thing out! If you don't see in it what you want, you've only to write to the publisher and tell him what you want, whether it is a tack-hammer or a new carriage, and he will make special terms for you, either for a club, or for part cash. Better subscribe right off and surprise Mrs. Tom. Only $2.00 a year—will save fifty times that in six months. Or send 10 cents direct to the publisher, W. Jennings Demorest, 15 East 14th Street, New York, for a specimen copy containing the Premium List."

A Loved One Gone.

Again death has visited our town and entered the home from which there have already many precious ones been taken. On Saturday morning last Geo. Morrison, only son of Irvin Morrison, passed into eternity. His sickness was of short duration, lasting only a little over a week. He first took a severe cold by having wet feet and when the doctor was called he pronounced it fever, later it turned to membranous croup, which was the immediate cause of his death.

The deceased was nine years of age, having completed his ninth year in August last. Mr. and Mrs. Morrison have our profound sympathy in this time of bereavement. Mr. and Mrs. M have had eleven children, eight of whom now sleep in the silent grave.

The funeral took place on Monday afternoon at two o'clock, Rev. Bower conducted the services.

A Long Voyage, for a Brief Time, Up the Salty Way Graphically and Entertainingly Described.

HEADQUARTERS SALT RIVER,
November 7, 1890.

Editor Daily News:

DEAR SIR.—We are here and a wretched old place it now seems after having been occupied so long by the demo's. It is a little lonesome now and the salty breezes are so exhiliarating that one must have something to do and so I thought I would pen a few lines for you, and that my tale will be complete I must begin at the beginning.

In the first place, you will probably remember the night of the 4th of November, 1890; indeed, none of us are likely soon to forget it. Well, we tried to keep up our spirits (some succeeded wonderfully well, too) by the belief that the next word received would be favorable to us; it was always the next until about 2 o'clock in the morning when the most of us thought the favorable next dispatch would not come for a couple years, and so we went home to get a little sleep, pack our grips, take leave of our friends and bright and early the next morning we were off on our voyage up salt river. When the last man was on board we pulled in the gang plank of high license and three minutes later moved away from the high tariff platform and slowly steamed up the river.

As we departed many a sad face was turned backward and many an eye was wet with tears. In one end of the boat quite an animated discussion was at once started to determine whether or not "Pap was vindicated." Several gangs were throwing dice to find out if fate should will us back in 1892; a respectable gathering of penitent mourners were gathered around a bier on which rested a black draped coffin on which was a silver plate inscribed as follows:

SACRED TO THE MEMORY OF
M. S. QUAY.
At Harrisburg it was his time
Now the people said their say.

A few others were assembled around another beer while the remainder of the crowd solemnly sang such mournful songs as "Down Went McGinty," "We've all been there before, many a time," "And his funeral is to-morrow," etc. Delamater was chief mourner, because he was the most affected. The steamer "Bossism" ploughed through the rough waters with better success than it went through the State of Pennsylvania.

When about half way up the stream a whistle was heard in the distance and soon, on rounding a curve, an old and battered boat, one that had evidently made many trips up the river, was seen coming down. She had on a full head of steam. At the masthead was nailed a banner bearing the picture of Pattison and on which was inscribed the following:

IT MIGHT HAVE BEEN HASTINGS BUT NOW IT IS
ROBERT E. PATTISON.

From the banner waved a streamer bearing the words "Home rule—good government and clean politics." Pattison was at the helm and with him in the same boat were Rutan, Emery, the Lincoln Independents, Chairman Kerr and a whole host of mugwumps including a few of Bellefonte's local politicians The two boats had almost passed each other when Frank Willing Leach, who had been sitting idly by thinking of the $1000 he lost on a bet with Chairman Kerr, sprang to his feet and offered to bet Kerr another thousand that we would return in '92. Kerr refused to take bet while Pattison's face was illumined for one instant by an 8 by 10 presidential smile.

Nothing more worthy of note occurred until our arrival here. Then there was a scramble for the best places, but, we are compelled to say, the best places are mighty scarce. All the evidences of recent democratic habitation were visible on all sides. The cabins were filthy and stifling. Broken and empty bottles, labelled "campaign whiskey," were scattered in every direction. Empty wallets marked "campaign boodle" were numerous but empty. Piles of circulars, such as were sent out to catch the colored voter, were found in the cabins of the leaders. Confidential promises made to the mugwumps, the independents, the floppers, the negroes, and every man that would vote the democratic ticket, were also found. And a big book which was at first mistaken for a ledger of accounts was found on examination to be a diary of chairman Heinle, in which was recorded the entire working of the party for years back as well as the way the late convention was worked and the election carried it was a corrupt book and very few republicans would venture near it.

During the past 24 hours things have been made to assume a vastly different appearance and it is very evident that the boys intend to at least enjoy cleanliness and comfort while they are here. L. L. Brown, Jack Dale and W. L. Malin room together and they have engaged Matt Dooley as man of all work. Wolfe, Mattern, Sheriff Cooke, Fiedler, Henderson and Kunes occupy one of the big tents and Harter, Tyson, Fryberger, Fisher, Church, Krape and the writer occupy another. We have all settled quietly down and intend to make ourselves comfortable for a two years' stay, but in the meantime we won't be idle. We intend to go to work with a will. The ship we came up on will be entirely rejuvinated and painted up and the next voyage it makes will be a triumphant one down stream in 1892.

ONE OF THE GANG

For Rosebuds of Marriage.

Let me venture a few little points to those of my girls who, since the summer, have worn a bright ring on their third finger:

My dear, don't let the man to whom you are engaged to be married pay any of the expenses of your living or trousseau, until you are his wife. A calico dress and contentment are much more to be desired than a fine silk one garnitured with scandal.

Battle of Gettysburg.

General St. Clair A. Mulholland, of Philadelphia, is in our city. He is arranging for the presentation, at our opera house on December 1st, of the superb spectacle "Briscoe's Battle of Gettysburg." This is the stupendous exposition of the great struggle that has been creating such an interest in our State during the past two years and differs from the Cycloramas of Gettysburg, inasmuch as it exhibits the whole three days of the titians struggle and every part of the glorious field, whereas the latter shows but one portion of the ground and but one scene of the fight. It is well that our citizens will have an opportunity of witnessing this magnificent exhibition.

The Life of a Cadet.

Those who know something of a college life, know that a student has to keep to himself all he sees or hears that pertains to hazing about the college. A. J. Cruse, of Bellefonte, was a cadet at Annapolis, Maryland, and some hazing was indulged in that young Cruse knew all about. He was summoned before a tribunal and asked to divulge the names of the hazers. To do this was to lead an ostracised life at the college. To refuse meant expulsion. He had but one of two things to do. He stood by his classmates and was expelled for it. His action proved that he was made of good material, but it lost him a life position under the Government.—Clearfield Republiaan.

—A minister who apparently did not get along with his people, in taking his leave of them, delivered himself of three reasons why they should part, "You do not love me; you do not love each other, and the Lord does not love you. If you loved me you would have paid me my salary during the past year more readily; you do not love each other, otherwise I should have had more marriages to celebrate; and the Lord does not love you, for otherwise he would call more of you to him, and I should have more funeral services to conduct." The parishioners did not press their pastor to remain for another year.

Meek's Majority.

Our editorial friend, Mr. P. Gray Meek, ran like everlasting for Senator in this district. He had almost twice as large a majority as ever was given before. Following are the majorities from each county in the district:

Centre	2,035
Clearfield	2,416
Clinton	372
Total	4,82

—We may be beaten but we are not conquered. Oh, no! It is only a fitting rebuke justly administered by the people against bossism. The Republican party will come up smiling on the very next occasion, the purer and better for having received a setback this time. It only emphasizes the demands of the people for pure and clean republicanism. not bossism.

—It it only too true that it does require some X's and V's to run a daily newspaper, but there is one thing certain, we have the privilege of getting as many as we can. And there is another thing certain and that is that when a thing appears in these columns it can be backed up; we never try to get around an article by such squeamish assertions. See!

—A most valuable little book which should be in every household has been prepared by the proprietors of Mellin's Food, entitled "The Care and Feeding of Infants." It contains advice that every mother will find of the greatest value and assistance in feeding her child. Mailed free upon application to the Doliber-Goodale Co., 41 Central Wharf, Boston, Mass.

—The DAILY NEWS was the only Republican paper that had the "sand" to come out on Wednesday and acknowledge defeat and put the blame where it rightfully belongs. But with what unanimity the republican press, from Philadelphia to Pittsburg, on Thursday morning gave the one and only reason for the defeat. The Philadelphia Press was especially emphatic.

—Some of the defeated candidates will now find out about how many liars there are in this world.

TUESDAY'S REVERBERATIONS.

Seemed Impossible and Yet Confirmed. Stray Shots and Sayings.

All of the Republican city dailies were loth to "give up the ship" on Wednesday morning and for that reason they appeared with such head lines as "In doubt," "Suspense," and such like. Now it is to be admitted that it was hard to die, but better by far die game—go off in one spasmodic struggle and then right up and at them again, than to go off in one long, lingering death that will last from now until the next election; yes, perhaps, until after our opponents size up to the occasion and win a democratic victory in 1892. We want none of that.

There has apparently been a fancied cause for the upheaval among the Republicans this year, and that cause is so well known it does not need to be repeated here, and the tidal wave of democratic votes for the occasion. Even the enemy are generous enough to acknowledge it to be not a democratic victory but the decision of the people. If the Republican press throughout the state will take the correct view of the cause of the results, throw the blame where the blame belongs, and not try to bolster up some false reason simply in defence of one or more parties, the blow dealt the party on Tuesday will redound to its credit and betterment and will lead to more glorious victories in the years that are to come.

It is not denied that Pattison and his backers used every means conceivable to secure his election and, now that it is over and he is elected considerable personal abuse will stop. The republicans con congratulate themselves with having carried on a clean, manly campaign from beginning to end and hence retire with clear consciences. As to the other party—well, when they retire to their little bed at night there'll be more than a bed bug crawling over their conscience.

STRAY SHOTS.

Wednesday morning's Philadelphia Press contained an editorial saying Delamater was elected by 25,000 majority. Evidently that must have been written the day before.

Mr. Morrison can now occupy the house he rented three years ago.

We have just found out why it was that our entire ticket was defeated. Most all our ballots were thrown out, at least the streets were covered with them Wednesday morning.

Brother Meek seems to have been very popular in this district as his majority is about 4,700, almost double the regular majority. Well, if it must be a democrat, we would as soon it would be Meek as any other man.

What Delamater Says.

"I went into the contest to make an honest, straightforward fight. I have done so and by the fortunes of politics I have been defeated. If the party can stand it, I certainly can. As to the causes which led to the result, I have nothing to say at present. I do not care to discuss them now. For myself I have nothing to regret and for my friends nothing of reproach. The result ends the whole matter, so far as I am concerned. I shall now devote my whole attention to business, which I have not done for some time past." This is what George Wallace Delamater said yesterday as he walked home to luncheon from his office in the banking house of Delamater & Co. Beyond this he would say nothing for publication. Senator Delamater received conclusive evidence of defeat at 4 o'clock Wednesday morning. Previous to that time it had been impossible to get any definite information from Philadelphia or Pittsburg.

WHAT OTHERS SAY.

Wanamaker says it was owing to the personal opposition to Senator Quay.

Hastings says Quay won at the convention and the people won at the polls.

Cooper says the people will control.

General Merrill says it was a protest to Quay.

Beaver says it was the result of local disaffection.

Ex-Governor Hoyt says "this election indicates that the party wants a different kind of leadership."

And so on for pages we could write the opinions of all the great men in Pennsylvania politics and they all point to one thing and that is "bossism." It must be crushed. Senator Quay won for a time, now the people are showing their hand. It is the only way to have a good party and clean politics.

Scanlan at the Temple.

Forepaugh's Temple Theatre was crowded at both matinee and evening to witness the production of "Neil Agrah," a romantic Irish drama founded upon events in the Emerald Isle during the trying times of 1798. The play is founded upon the troubles of Reginald Carey, an Irish patriot, whom Capt. Le Moyne, a British officer, is hounding in order that he may get him out of the way and marry Rose Delaney, Reginald's betrothed. Through the intervention of Neil Agrah, the captain's plans are eventually foiled and everything turns out happily. Mr. M. A. Scanlan plays the title role, and with his songs and pleasing brogue captivated his audiences and received much applause. In the supporting company Sam E. Ryan appears as Larry Kernan and his acting deserves much praise. The part of Reginald was in the hands of Harry W. Emmett. Frederick Jerome as Lieutenant Fitzsimmons and Miss Henrietta Berleur as Rose came in for a generous share of well-merited applause.—Baltimore Herald.

The Salaries of Our Judges.

The death of Justice Miller should renew public attention to the salaries that are paid our judges. After 28 years of faithful service he died poor. Yet he was a man of high legal endowments. He was learned, impartial, incorruptible; he had a keen logical insight and a remarkable faculty for debate. It is needless to say that he might have put his talents to better uses, pecuniarily, than he did. A great lawyer, a lawyer no greater in natural gifts than himself, frequently makes as much in a single fee as Judge Miller's entire salary for a year. He might have remained at the bar with a certainty of climbing to the top. Or he might have gone into politics. It is true that the salaries of our Congressmen and Senators are not as large as those of the members of the Supreme Court; yet it is a fact that has been frequently commented upon by political economists, that the legislative halls seem to develop habits of remarkable thrift and economy, so that in a few years many of our Representatives have been known to save even as much as $1,000,000 out of a salary of $5,000 per annum. Mr. Justice Miller, however, chose to devote his attainments to the service of his country, without any hope of large gains. Whether that spirit will remain long with us in these days of feverish money hunting is very doubtful. Every year it will be more and more difficult to fill the vacancies in our highest tribunals with the legal eminence that is alone fitted to occupy them. Great lawyers who command great fees will be more and more indisposed to give up their pecuniary chances for the bare honor of becoming members of the highest judiciary in the land.—The Illustrated American.

They Say

That the election is over.

That a self-made man and a self-made woman are vastly different.

That the politicians look somewhat careworn after the vigorous campaign.

That ministers, as a rule, think it very necessary to begin their revival meetings immediately after the campaign closes.

That the season of roast turkey and cranberry sauce is upon us and the tramp who appreciates the remnants is heading this way.

That if some people in this world were as big as they think they are it would take mighty tight crowding to find room for the rest of us.

That man dominates the earth. In his hands is the voting power, in his pocket the money, and in his general make-up there is that capacity which enables him to say "presto change" and the greenbacks turn into ballots.

That about the best thing the people of Centre county can now do is for each and every man to attend to his own business, fatten up the Thanksgiving turkey and implore Divine forgiveness, and make the best of the present state of affairs.

KISSED ANOTHER MAN'S WIFE.

"You scoundrel," yelled young Jacob Green
At his good neighbor Brown,—
"You kissed my wife upon the street,—
I ought to knock you down."

"That's where you're wrong," good Brown replied,
In accents mild and meek;
"I kissed her; that I've not denied
But I kissed her on the cheek—

and I did so because she looked so handsome—the very picture of beauty and health. What is the secret of it?"

"Well," replied Green, "since you ask it, I will tell you; she uses Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. I accept your apology. Good night."

An unhealthy woman is rarely, if ever, beautiful. The peculiar diseases to which so many of the sex are subject, are prolific causes of pale, sallow faces, blotched with unsightly pimples, dull, lustreless eyes and emaciated forms. Women so afflicted, can be permanently cured by using Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription; and with the restoration of health comes that beauty which, combined with good qualities of head and heart, makes women angels of loveliness.

"Favorite Prescription" is the only medicine for women, sold by druggists, under a positive guarantee from the manufacturers, that it will give satisfaction in every case, or money will be refunded. It is a positive specific for leucorrhea, painful menstruation, unnatural suppressions, prolapsus, or falling of the womb, weak back, anteversion, retroversion, bearing-down sensations, chronic congestion, inflammation and ulceration of the womb.

Local Department.

—The wild geese are now flying southward.

—Housekeeping is about over and the men are correspondingly happy.

—In Lock Haven the council has ordered that all the overhead signs must go.

—General and Mrs. Hastings entertained six gentlemen friends over Sunday.

—Potatoes boiled with the jackets on is the most indigestable way they can be served.

—That Black Hussar band, under the leadership of Prof. Nickerson, which accompanied A Social Session was certainly a daisy.

—The vote thus far records a large majority against the measure so far as heard from.

—When a man's own precinct and county votes against him then there is something wrong somewhere.

—The next entertainment of the W C T U Star Course will be Dr. James Hedley's lecture on December 8th

—The plant for the arc light will be ordered this week and by the first of December the company expect to have the streets lighted.

—Tyrone is to have a street railway. Now let Bellefonte get up and do some "biz." Don't let a little town like Tyrone get ahead of us.

—The Lebanon Daily Report is a new daily that has just found its way to our table, It is quite a newsy little sheet and well printed throughout.

—The young ladies of the M E church intend holding a church supper sometime in the near future. Look out for it if you want a good, square meal.

—Be sure and attend that turkey dinner and chicken and waffle supper given by the ladies of the M E church today in the vacant store room in Bush Arcade.

—A young man named Downing had two fingers of his left hand smashed on Tuesday morning while endeavoring to make a coupling in the yard of the Buffalo Run railroad.

—In Lock Haven quite a number of persons have been arrested for the nonpayment of taxes. In each and every case, however, the taxes were paid in preference to going to jail.

—On Sunday quite a number of politicians attended divine service in the different churches. What a change it must have been to the rush and worry and work of a political campaign.

—It is authentically reported that Rev. J. A. Woodcock and family will return to Bellefonte from Williamsport next spring and will build them another house on the adjoining lot above their late residence on Linn street.

—Tyrone is to have a lecture course in which Rev. Russel H. Conwell and Rev. Chas. T. Steck are both down for a lecture. We can assure our Tyrone friends that they have a rare treat in store for them in the hearing of both these gentlemen.

—Game seems to be quite plenty this season after all: Quite a large number of bear have already been killed, and a a small number of deer. Turkeys are said to be plenty while pheasants and rabbits are numerous. The only thing now to do is to hunt and shoot them.

—This must be a good day for hunting deer from the number of local sportsman that are out. It is said that about fifty were on the Lewisburg train this morning going to the mountains while Bellefonte seemed to be full of men with guns on their shoulders.

—There is entirely too much running out and in between acts at the opera house. Just why it is is hard to tell. Some, perhaps, go out because they have to, others go out because they want to and a great many go out because they think it looks big. If the latter class only knew it, it, in reality, looks mighty little.

—We received a communication from some one—evidently a lady—headed "what are you paying for?" but as there is no name signed the only place we can find for it is on the shelf. If, however, the writer will send in her name we will publish the article. Be it known that we do not desire the name for publication but only for our justification.

—On Saturday last Commissioner John D. Decker shot and killed a four-pronged buck that dressed about 180 pounds. Mr. Decker is a good shot, which is evidenced from the fact that the one killed on Saturday made the 60th deer he has killed in his time. He has also killed eleven bear while turkeys and smaller game, in unknown quantity, have fallen before his unerring aim.

LINCOLN'S MELANCHOLY.

His Sympathetic Nature and His Early Misfortunes.

Those who saw much of Abraham Lincoln during the later years of his life, were greatly impressed with the expression of profound melancholy his face always wore in repose.

Mr. Lincoln was of a peculiarly sympathetic and kindly nature. These strongs characteristics influences, very happily proved, his entire political career. They would not seem, at first glance, to be efficient aids to political success; but in the peculiar emergency which Lincoln, in the providence of God, wrs called to meet, no vessel of common clay could possibly have become the 'chosen of the Lord.'

Those acquainted with him from boyhood knew that early griefs tinged his whole life with sadness. His partner in the grocery business at Salem, was 'Uncle' Billy Green of Tallula, Ill., who used at night, when the customers were few, to hold the grammar while Lincoln recited his lessons.

It was to his sympathetic ear Lincoln told the story of his love for sweet Ann Rutlidge; and he, in return, offered what comfort he could when poor Ann died, and Lincoln's great heart nearly broke.

'After Ann died,' says 'Uncle' Billy, on stormy nights, when the wind blew the rain against the roof, Abe would set there in the grocery, his elbows on his knees, his face in his hands, and the tears runnin' through his fingers. I hated to see him feel bad, an I'd say, 'Abe don't cry'; an' he'd look up an' say 'I can't help it, Bill, the rain's a fallin' on her.' What adds poignancy to the grief sometimes is the thought that the loved one might have been saved.

Fortunate, indeed, is William Johnson of Corona, L. I., a builder, who writes June 28, 1890: "Last February, on returning from church one night, my daughter complained of having a pain in her ankle. The pain gradually extended until the entire limb was swollen and very painful to the touch. We called a physician, who after careful examination, pronounced it disease of the kidneys of long standing. All we could do, did not seem to benefit her until we tried Warner's Safe Cure, from the first she commenced to improve. When she commenced taking it she could not turn over in bed, and could just move her hands a little, but to-day she is as well as ever she was. I believe I owe the recovery of my daughter to its use.

The Star Course.

The Star Course for this season promises to be even better than that of former seasons. It opens on Tuesday 11th with the Lotus Glee Club. December 8th Dr. Hedley, of Cleveland, Russell H. Connell will give the jolly earthquake in Feb. and the course will conclude with the original Nashville Jubilee Singers. Tickets for this entire course are only $1.50. Student's tickets $1.00, The object as all will readily understand is not to make money. As the course alone costs $500, but it is to give to our young people and to all a higher class of entertainment to cultivate a taste for the pure and the good, and thus uplift humanity. The W C T U would remind the public whose patronage they ask, that the first proceeds of the Star Course $175 were given to the Y M C A gymnasium for young men. Last season the proceeds were intended for spending on an Industrial, but at the time La Grippe prevailed to such an extent it was not found advisable to undertake it. We feel confident if the horses which daily and hourly refresh themselves at our fountain, could speak they would do so in terms of general appreciation for our efforts in their behalf. Shall the citizens of Bellefonte be less grateful for the efforts we have and are making for the welfare of their children and the good of humanity at large? The question is for you to answer.

Fifteenth Annual Reunion.

The fifteenth annual reunion of the 28th and 147th regiments of Pennsylvania veteran volunteer infantry and Knapp's battery of Pennsylvania light artilery will take place in Philadelphia on Monday, November 24, 1890. The programme will include a business meeting, election of officers and the annual supper.

How to Choose a Turkey.

On Thanksgiving Day every American family makes an effort to dine on turkey. The turkey, being a gift for which all Americans should be thankful, seems especially appropriate as a Thanksgiving offering. If you are a town-dweller you must secure your bird from a poulterer; and let me whisper to you not to rely too implicitly on his judgment. Tastes differ, and upon this occasion you wish to suit your own. Some persons prefer a gobbler to a hen-turkey, but I advise you a hen. The meat is whiter, sweeter and more tender. The bill and toes should be soft, and the flesh have a bluish-white cast. twelve pounds being an exceedingly good weight. The fortunate country-dweller has his own turkeys, or should have at least, and can mold them at will. The feed can be so managed that the meat will be white, tender and of a delicate flavor, or the flavor may be greatly heightened by a change of diet. Chopped turnips, cabbage and parsley, varied with corn-meal, biled rice and chopped celery tops, impart a peculiar gamey flavor, which to many persons is very desirable. This food may be given three or four days before killing.—MRS S T ROREB, in Ladies Home Journal.

Snow Shoe Items.

Miss Bessie Irvin, of Burnside, Clearfield, a very bright and attractive young lady, was the guest of her aunt, Mrs. McMurray, this week. Miss Bessie's winning amiable manners won her hosts of friends during her visit. It was her first visit to Snow Shoe and she expressed herself as delighted.

On last Monday and Tuesday we had quite a snow storm here—ground white.

Mr. Max Frank, of Philadelphia, spent Sunday at the Mountain House.

Our genial friend, John Mitchell, went home to Lemont to vote on Tuesday.

Rev. W O Wright, of Milesburg, preached in Snow Shoe and Moshannon on Sunday last. On November 16, he will preach here and Moshannon again.

Miss Hannah Gilliland, the estimable sister of our worthy townsman, R C Gilliland, is visiting the family of her brother this week.

The chicken and waffle supper given by the ladies of the M. E. Church of this place on Tuesday evening was a grand success. About forty dollars were taken in. Everybody enjoyed themselves and had a good time.

Dr. White, the pleasant and popular Philipsburg dentist, had engagements in Snow Shoe during Wednesday and Thursday. He is both pleasant, careful and painstaking in his dentistry. All who have had him do work for them here are delighted with him.

Col. Eyre Pile, of Bellefonte, was in Snow Shoe on Monday and Tuesday.

The Democrats and small boys had quite a jollification here on Tuesday night. Houses illuminated, street parade and bon fires.

Miss Johanna Regan, the bright and attractive daughter of John Regan, is the guest of Thomas Maher, proprietor of the Potter House, Karthaus. Went out to name the junior member of the family.

We are sorry to state that the wife of James Tobin is very ill with the fever at the home of her mother.

Mr. J. S. Ewing, our druggist, scarcely knows whether this is Snow Shoe or some other place, since Pattison's election.

Mr. Benison, teacher of the Intermediate grade here, went home to vote last week.

Miss Anna Krape, of Spring Mills, is in our little city of the Shoe this week.

One of the most respected and prominent citizens of Snow Shoe, Wm. Lucas, has located in Philipsburg.

The wife and daughter of Hon. J. H. Holt, accompanied by Miss Mollie Bing, were in town on Wednesday.

Mrs. Richards and Joseph Shank were buried the same day last week.

Mr. J. H. Beates, of Pine Glenn, registered at the Mountain House last Wednesday.

The supper given by the ladies of the Moshannon Presbyterian church a few days ago realized a neat little sum.

Dad was neatly vindicated out here on Tuesday, but the Republicans vindicated their rights as citizens.

Mrs. J. G. Uzzle, hostess of the Washington House, who has been quite ill, we are glad to say is much better.

Messrs. Thos. A. Shoemaker and Jno. M. Dale, of Bellefonte, registered at the Mountain House on Friday last.

A. B. EWING DEAD.

A Man Well Known in Centre County Dies from Falling into a Vat of Scalding Liquor.

Mention was made in Tuesday's DAILY NEWS of the serious accident in Tyrone to Alexander B. Ewing about noon on Monday, who while in the discharge of his duty in the pan room of the Tyrone paper mill, accidentally fell into a vat of waste alkali and liquor, and in consequence was severely scalded, The Tyrone Herald of Tuesday says: He was removed to his home on Main street where he was tenderly cared for, but without avail. The doctors sustained the hope that he might recover, but his pain and suffering was so intense that he gradually grew weaker and at 25 minutes of 10 o'clock last evening he quietly passed into the great beyond.

The subject of this obituary was born in Graysville, Huntingdon county, January 23,1847, and was therefore 43 years, 9 months and 17 days of age at the time of his death. On the 7th of March, 1871, he was united in marriage to Miss Elizabeth Kinch, of Frankinville, where they enjoyed wedded life until about four years ago, when Mrs. Ewing died. About two years ago he, with his children, moved to Tyrone, and Mr. Ewing secured employment in the tannery where he worked until last January, when he entered the employ of Morrison & Cass at the paper mill.

Mr. Ewing was a soldier in the late war, having served about four years in Company I, 205th Regiment, Penna. Vol. He was a member of G. A. R. Post, No. 172, of this place. He was a consistent member of the Presbyterian church all through his life.

He leaves behind to mourn the loss of a father, two children, one boy and one girl, who are Mary, aged 19, and James, aged 15. He also leaves two brothers and one sister. The former are Hesekiah, of Fairbrook, Centre county, and Jeremiah, of Marklesburg, Huntingdon county; the sister is Mrs. B. J. Laporte, of Philipsburg.

The deceased will be buried at Seven Stars, Huntingdon county, the funeral to take place from his late residence on Main street this morning at seven o'clock in order to convey the remains to Spruce Creek on Seashore Express, which leaves Tyrone station at 7.40 from which place the friends and relatives will proceed in carriages to the place of interment.

Fell Into a Vat of Scalding Liquor.

From Monday's Tyrone Herald we take the following: Alaxander B. Ewing, an employe in the pan room at the paper mill of Morrison & Cass met with a painful accident this morning a few minutes before noon, which may be very serious in its results. He was walking in the basement of the round house connected with the mill, and was about to come out, when his head struck against a shaft and he was thrown backward into a vat of waste alkali and liquor. Luckily he alighted therein on his feet, but the steaming liquor covered him completely to the neck, scalding him terribly.

With rare presence of mind and pluck Mr. Ewing raised his hands, and hurriedly climbed out of the vat, jerked off as much of his clothing as he could, and walked up stairs, where assistance was soon obtained. Dr. J. M. Smith was summoned at once and did all in his power to relieve the intense suffering of the unfortunate man, He was scalded from his neck to his feet, the cuticle being badly burned all over his body and in some places the scalding solution penetrated deep into the flesh. His head and face escaped injury.

Mr. Ewing was removed to his home on Main street where he is receiving the tenderest care. While every chance seems to be in his favor, his condition is very critical and the ultimate result of the accident cannot yet be determined.

Millheim Musings.

Mr. John Hall has put down a new pavement in front of his property on Penn street.

A four footed thief attempted to get into Mr. John Frank's poultry house a few nights ago but, judging from the sense of smell, he got too warm a reception and fled in dismay.

Mr. Sanford Miller was off with the Aaronsburg band last Tuesday evening. Sanford has an especial liking for those fellow musicians—well not exactly for those fellows, but for a certain fellow's beautiful and accomplished sister, of that place.

Music for Christmas.

Those who have charge of the musical part of Christmas festivities, concerts and services, should not fail to obtain at an early date, sample copies of the new publications now ready. "Mary's Stocking" is the title of a pretty cantata for children, and it gives us an idea of Christmas in Sweden, (25cts.) "Christmas Joys" and "The Holy Christ Child" are interesting services for Sunday schools, (5 cts. each.) And among the pretty carols and songs are those known as "Songs of Bethlehem," a collection of nine, (8 cents each) by Van de Water; besides an attractive list of new and old songs and carols, which, in this limited space, we cannot describe. The ever welcome "Good Tidings, or Sailor Boys' Christmas," 25 cts., are cantatas that will continue to be enjoyable and popular for ten years to come, We advise you to send immediately for free descriptive catalogue. Address Oliver Ditson Company, Boston, Mass. Any of the above named publications mailed post-paid on receipt of price.

Personal Pencilings.

Miss Emily Harris is visiting friends in Altoona.

Colonel J L Spangler and wife are at the hotel Anderson, Pittsburg.

Miss Sadie Malin returned on Friday evening from a two week's visit in Baltimore, Md.

Mrs. Stover, of Curwensville, Pa., is the guest of Mrs. C C Shuey, on East Howard street.

Mrs. W R Kinsloe, of Philipsburg, is visiting at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James H Rankin, on Thomas street.

Commissioners J C Henderson, M S Fiedler, John D Decker and the present clerk, James B Strohm, departed on Tuesday evening for Williamsport to attend the County Commissioners convention now in session there.

Miss Annie Cleaver, after quite an extended visit among friends in the western part of the State, has returned to her home in Bellefonte and cannow be found regularly at her post of duty at her desk in the Fountain office.

Amusement Notes.

A very fair audience greeted "A Social Session" company on Monday night at the opera house. The play was one of the imaginative kind without any plot to speak of but lots of fun and, judging from the amount of applause it was duly appreciated. But the music; it was the best that there has been this season. Every member of the orchestra was truly an artist, while the cornet solo playing of Mr. Ed. E. Nickerson was simply superb. The music was well worth the price of admission.

On Thursday night the renowned Irish Comedian, M. A. Scanlan, in his successfully romantic drama, in four acts, entitled, "Neil Agrah" will appear in the opera house. The company is a trong one, the plot a good one, and the play abounds in charming Irish songs and Irish wit. Secure your seats early.

Turkey Dinner and Chicken Supper.

On Thursday the young ladies of the Methodist church will give a turkey dinner and a chicken and waffle supper in the now vacant store room in the Bush Arcade. Everybody that knows anything knows that for a good cook, always take a Methodist lady, and we can safely promise that the dinner and supper to be served on Thursday will be one of the best that has been given thus far this season. Now the young ladies are deserving of patronage and the people of Bellefonte should give it to them, and while doing that they will all be getting a good square meal. Therefore be sure and hunt up the place on Thursday.

If you don't want to have ultimate trouble cure your catarrh now by using Old Saul's Catarrh Cure. It costs but 25 cents.

FARMER'S HERE'S A CHANCE.

To Read the Pittsburgh Commercial Gazette and the Republican for $2 a Year.

The Commercial Gazette, of Pittsburgh, is the friend of the farmer. It favors relieving the farmers of taxation to the extent that corporations can bear; in fact, it is the farmers' friend in everything that is just and reasonable. The coming session of the Legislature and Congress will be of great interest to the agricultural class, and all news of importance to them will be found in the Weekly Commercial Gazette. Its market reports are the authorities for buying and selling in Pittsburgh, where it is recognized as such by all dealers. Don't be without it. It will save you annually many times the price of its subscription. Subscribe for it at once. Send your subscription to this office when it will be forwarded to Pittsburgh.

Bellefonte's Lady M. D.

It is now some couple of months since Miss Edith Harris returned from Philadelphia a full-fledged M. D., with her sheepskin credentials and the good wishes of her instructors and fellow students. That Miss Harris had determined to make a profession of her study is now plainly evidenced by the growing practice she already has. And her future success is almost assured from the skillful way in which she has handled all cases that have thus far been entrusted to her care—and there have been some critical ones. Dr. Edith is now cosily ensconsed in her new office; a small building erected separate and distinct from the Harris residence and facing on Spring street. And just here we might add that it is one of the best and cosiest doctor's offices to be found in Bellefonte. The building is tastefully planned and painted outwardly and inside—well, inside it is all for convenience and comfort that the heart could desire. Fitted up with a library, mechanical apparatus, handsome and comfortable furniture, heated with indirect heat and the daylight admitted through beautifully stained glass, while at night it is illumined with electricity. What more could one desire? Her surroundings are now perfect and we doubt not that her professional career will be as near perfect as it is possible te be, and she has our best wishes for her future success.

Granite State Provident Association.

Is something on the order of the Building and Loan Association only better. It has over six millions of dollars subscribed, and has sold over 36,000 shares. The Association is now establishing branch offices all over the United States. Mr. Thomas Gates is now in Bellefonte soliciting subscribers to the Association with the purpose of establishing a branch office in Bellefonte for this county if enough subscribers can be secured to justify so doing. Mr. Gates is quartered at the Garman House and can be seen there any time during this week. Call on him and talk the matter over.

The difference with which so many people regard a cough or cold is truly unpardonable. Those affections often lead to consumption, and should be checked in time by the use of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup. Price 25cts. a bottle.

No misrepresentations are needed to sell Salvation Oil. It is an honest article. Only 25 cents.

Swellings in the neck and all other forms of scrofula, salt rheum, etc., are cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Highest of all in Leavening Power.—U. S. Gov't Report, Aug. 17, 1889.
